

Adenauer Dies in Sleep

Former German Chancellor
Hailed for Accomplishments

BONN, Germany (AP) — Konrad Adenauer died in his sleep today, plunging into mourning the prosperous West German nation he built up from the ashes of World War II defeat. He was 91.

The former chancellor was stricken a week ago with influenza and bronchitis. His condition steadily weakened as complications set in.

The family was at his bedside in the three-story home in Rhodendorf, a village near this capital, when he died.

For several days, as the news spread that Adenauer was growing weaker, thousands had visited the village but when the end came there were few people around.

Radio and television stations broadcast solemn music and speeches of praise for the aged statesman. A jarring note came from the official Communist East Germany news agency ADN which said his life work was "against the interests of the German nation." It condemned him for outlawing the Communist Party.

Death came at 1:21 p.m. while the aged statesman was sleeping.

Those in the villa overlooking the Rhine included his son, Roman Catholic Msgr. Paul Adenauer.

Flags in the capital were low.

Johnson Plans To Attend Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will attend the funeral of former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany, the White House announced today.

Johnson and Adenauer had known one another since the early 1950s and now that the latter is dead, the President told an aide, "I want to be there" for the services.

ered to half staff. Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger was the first to express his sorrow.

"He was given to do what is granted to few men: to raise up his fatherland from the deepest degradation and to bring it back into the community of free peoples," Kiesinger said.

A meeting of the Bundestag, where Adenauer has been a leader through the postwar years, was canceled except for an announcement of his death.

President Heinrich Lübke ordered a state funeral.

Remained Active

Adenauer was one of the most influential figures of the Western world for two decades. He served as chancellor of West Germany from the founding of the Bonn republic in 1949 until 1963. But he remained active in politics almost to the end as a firm friend of French President Charles de Gaulle.

"Der Alte — the old man — as Adenauer was known to his countrymen, was still a member of parliament when he died. He was a member and former chairman of the Christian Democratic Party.

All through the cold war, he was one of the West's most uncompromising opponents of Soviet communism. In his last years, however, after he relinquished the chancellorship to Ludwig Erhard, he predicted Red China would be the West's major menace and urged closer relations with Russia.

West Germany lay in the ruins of World War II when Adenauer took power. Its people were distrusted by the rest of the world because of the Nazi past.

During Adenauer's 14 years in office, the country rose to unprecedented prosperity and gained acceptance as a friend and ally of the Western powers. It became a bulwark against further westward expansion by communism.

'Peace of World'

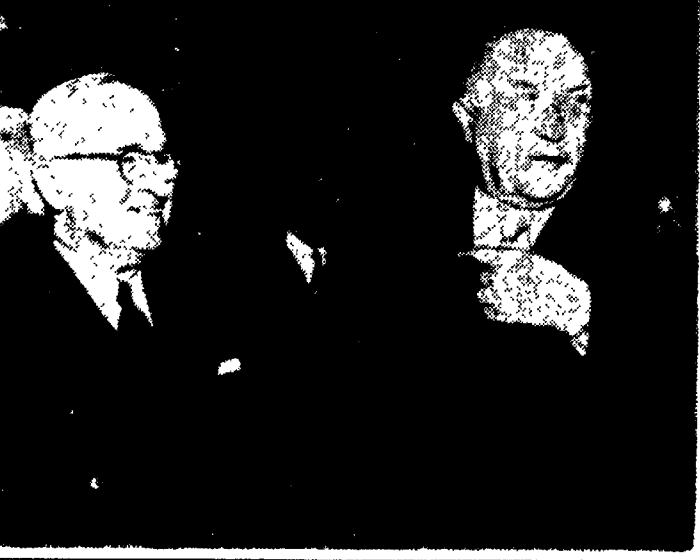

Sir Winston Churchill called Adenauer "the greatest German statesman since Bismarck."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower praised him for "dedication to his people and

Thailand Would Use U.S. SAMs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thailand has bid for U. S.-made surface to air missiles amid warnings at the SEATO foreign ministers meeting that Communist subversion is continuing in Southeast Asia.

Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand told the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Tuesday that since his nation has become involved in the Vietnam war, "some of our people should be protected by missiles."

Thanat and Jesus Vargas of the Philippines, SEATO secretary-general, joined in espousing stronger cooperation between the treaty members.

Vargas said Communist China, though wracked by internal political problems, is pressing subversive activities in Thailand and the Philippines.

Thanat leveled bitter criticism at some treaty members — whom he did not identify — saying "there will undoubtedly continue to be two categories of members — those who act on their obligations and those who choose to act only when their immediate national interests are concerned."

He indicated his country's willingness to let the United States base Vietnam-bound B52s

Bombers Again Strike Steel Plant

War Stepup Indicated by 145 Missions

SAIGON (AP) — American pilots took advantage of a break in the weather Tuesday afternoon to give North Vietnam its second worst bombing this year and to attack the showpiece Thai Nguyen steel plant for the 10th time.

The American airmen hit the north with 145 missions. The sudden upsurge indicated that the high command is ready to step up the war in the north immediately when any break in the monsoon weather permits.

A spokesman indicated that more intense raids are to be expected as soon as the seasonal bad weather breaks, and that this is now expected at any time.

Communist concern over the defense strip that U.S. Marines are bulldozing through vegetation two miles south of the demilitarized zone was reflected in a flurry of action.

Mortar Barrage

A Communist platoon of 30 or 40 men engaged elements of the 1st Battalion, 4th Marine Regiment, in a fire fight and the leathernecks also came under a Red mortar barrage. Enemy mines planted in advance of the earthmovers knocked out a Marine tank, a bulldozer and an amphibious tractor.

Two Marines were killed and 17 wounded. Five uniformed Communists were found dead after the fight. In all, four Marines have been killed and 62 wounded in pushing the strip 4,500 yards westward from their base at Gio Linh. It is to extend seven miles to the mountains as the western wing of a little Maginot Line that South Vietnamese are building between the sea and Gio Linh.

American fliers flew only two less missions Tuesday than the year's high of 147 April 3. The record for the war so far is 175 missions flown on a November day last year.

North of Hanoi

The Thai Nguyen steel plant and railroad yards 38 miles north of Hanoi was hit by a task force held ready for the break in the weather. When it came, Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4C Phantoms streaked into the Hanoi-Haiphong-Thai Nguyen triangle which is guarded by an iron ring of radar-controlled antiaircraft guns and Soviet-built surface to air missiles.

While specially equipped planes peeled off to hit the antiaircraft revetments and camouflaged SAM sites, other raiders plunged through a hail of fire over the steel plant and railroad yards for 25 minutes.

The Air Force said that

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — About 100 people have died in a smallpox epidemic in the Hazara area of Assam State in the past three weeks, according to reports reaching here.

Earlier 59 deaths had been reported in the Gauhati area. Smallpox is also raging in Bihar State where, according to unofficial estimates, more than 900 people have died since January.

Kellett Bill Nears Showdown

5 Amendments Added; Foe of Major Merger Vows Defeat

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Forces backing the Kellett plan to reorganize state government gained considerable political momentum Tuesday when five amendments were tacked on to the bill and key support was voiced by the Senate.

Accepted were amendments spelling out the investigation to be conducted before the Conservation and Resource Development departments are merged in July, 1969; exemption of the Grain and Warehouse Commission from the provisions of the bill, and inclusion of special tourist promotional funds in the Conservation Department, rather than in a department of local affairs as had been sought.

Democrats, spurred on by minority leader Fred Risser, D-Madison, charged that the bill was being gutted by the provisions Republicans were accepting in order to keep wavering members of their ranks behind the bill and to win former opponents over to their side.

Republicans urged the Senate to act on the amendments so the measure's major test could be faced — perhaps as soon as Wednesday.

Still to be confronted by backers of the bill are amendments which would separate the two major issues in the bill — proposed merger of the Welfare Department and State Board of Health into a department of social services and merger of the Conservation and Resource Development departments into a department of natural resources.

An amendment introduced late Tuesday by Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, would kill the proposed merger before the bill is even accepted. The merger, target of intense lobbying by conservation-oriented groups and the State Conservation Commission since before the Kellett commission released its final draft of the bill, would take place on July 1, 1969, under the terms of the substitute amendment submitted in compromise with opponents by Gov. Warren P. Knowles three weeks ago.

An interim board would study the proposed merger and report to the Legislature in January, 1969, as to the desirability and feasibility of the merger — which legislators then could block.

The LaFave amendment would prevent even that process from being carried out and prohibit the merger by creating two separate departments for the resource areas under the Kellett plan.

LBJ Back at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back in the White House after being away more than a week, President Johnson briefs his Cabinet today on impressions he gained at his meeting with heads of Latin-American nations.

The President and Mrs. Johnson landed early today in the presidential jet at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., and shuttled across the Anacostia River to the White House by helicopter. Johnson was gone eight days, allocating half the time to the meeting of presidents in Punta del Este, Uruguay, and the remainder to work and relaxation at his Texas ranch.

His schedule for today included, besides the Cabinet conference, a meeting with Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, to discuss the special U.N. session that starts Friday.

Probers Repeat Allegation of Illegal Lobbying

MADISON (AP) — A legislative committee wound up its probe of charges of irregular lobbying by the Conservation Department Tuesday as the chairman repeated the accusations had been proven "absolutely."

Sen. Leland McParland, D-Cudahy, told newsmen, "The testimony shows money, time and material were used in the opposition" to the Kellett bill on government reorganization. McParland's committee instructed its counsel, Assistant Atty. Gen. James McDermott, to draw up a proposed report on the findings and on recommendations for changes in the laws on use of state funds.

The report is to be submitted to the Legislature by May 15. John C. Wickhem of Janesville, an attorney for the Conservation Commission, told the group that the agency had not violated any law.

Conservation Department employees had testified previously that they helped arrange and publicize a "red shirt" rally in Madison Feb. 9 on the eve of legislative hearings on the Kellett bill, which includes a proposal to merge conservation with water pollution control.

Wickhem conceded employees had used state time to aid the outdoors groups sponsoring the rally, but argued, "I don't think there's any showing of any sizeable expenditure of state funds."

Wickhem and Jack Schumacher of Shawano, a member of the six-man Conservation Commission that governs the department, disputed McParland's statement last week that the agency had been proven guilty of improper lobbying.

Schumacher said the agency was only informing the public on the contents of the Kellett bill.

The Viet Cong and Terrorism

Torture, Death Are Standard Operating Procedure

SAIGON (AP) — A young Vietnamese leans his bicycle against a telephone pole near a tennis court in Saigon where several American servicemen are playing. He walks away and an explosive inside the bicycle detonates, injuring a U.S. officer and two Vietnamese children.

The Viet Cong aball a polling place in a primary school at Long Thoi hamlet. They abduct 12 village council candidates from Vinh Tho village.

The Viet Cong overrun a village of Montagnard tribesmen, shoot the village leaders, and burn the breasts of the village chief's wife and daughter with flaming sticks.

Terrorists in a village north-east of Saigon tie three teenage girl members of a government pacification team to stakes before shooting them in the back of the head.

The Viet Cong stop a three-wheeled motorcycle bus in Tan Thach village. The driver is taken to a garden and forced to hear Viet Cong propaganda, then is released unharmed.

All these are examples of the terrorism which is a major part of the Communist war to take over South Vietnam. U.S. officials report a slight increase in such Red activity in the past few months, with much of it designed to intimidate voters in the village and hamlet elections now being held every weekend.

Six candidates have been killed and 30 have been kidnapped. Since March 12, authorities have reported 333 terrorist incidents related to the ballot-ing.

Terrorists murdered 56 persons in the first week of April, a rate well above their average of 100 killings a month over the past 18 months. In that week, 151 persons were wounded and 95 were kidnapped by terrorists.

According to South Vietnamese government records, the Viet Cong have carried out an average of 22,000 terrorist acts a year during the past several years. The attacks take many forms and reach all segments of the Vietnamese civilian population. Favorite targets are Vietnamese and American military personnel off duty.

Terrorism serves several purposes in the Viet Cong's campaign to subvert the Saigon government and weaken its ability to resist Viet Cong military attacks.

Terrorists attempt to destroy effective village leadership by killing, maiming or frightening off local officials and government representatives.

They send armed propaganda teams into villages to demonstrate that villagers cannot depend on the government for protection. Sometimes the head of a murdered official is displayed on a pole as a warning.

Particularly in Saigon, terrorism helps the Viet Cong to advertise their presence and improve their morale.

In the past two years, Viet Cong terrorism has become slightly less controlled and there are indications that the terrorists are alienating parts of the population. Authorities believe experienced terrorist leaders are being sent to lead Viet Cong military units and their places are being taken by younger men who choose their targets less carefully.

The blowing up of civilian buses has become more frequent, for example.

The South Vietnamese and Americans have conducted counterterrorist activities for about five years.

Vietnamese political action teams were developed to use the Viet Cong's own tactics against the terrorists but fell victim to interservice rivalry over their control. Present anti-terrorist efforts are carried out by the 30-member revolutionary development teams and by provincial reconnaissance units.

Ky Vows Citizens' Status for Defectors From N. Vietnam

New Rewards Program Meant to Draw Higher Ranking Viet Cong

SAIGON (AP) — A new program of rewards to induce defections among higher ranking Viet Cong was announced today by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. He said Communist defectors would be "warmly welcomed as citizens" with full political rights, including those of voting and running for office.

The premier said the government would provide those who abandon the Communists with "facilities to build a new life" and they would be employed in accordance with their ability. "The country will be tolerant to the utmost" of defectors who have committed crimes "under Communist coercion or deception," he said, and they would be protected under South Vietnam's new constitution.

Solidarity Days

Ky set forth the program in a radio-television speech to the nation on National Solidarity Day, a holiday honoring Hung Vuong, who by tradition founded Vietnam 4,600 years ago.

In a ceremony at a Buddhist shrine in Saigon's Zoo, Ky called for the national unity of the 30 million Vietnamese in South and North Vietnam. He said South Vietnam will continue to respond to aggression but is always ready to negotiate for peace.

Ky in his broadcast speech said his government recently has "many times set forth proposals for the restoration of peace and has stated its readiness to meet North Vietnamese authorities either at the demilitarized zone or at any other place. Such initiatives on the part of the government have no other purpose than to safeguard the supreme interests of the Vietnamese race."

Chieu Hoi

The government's previous Chieu Hoi — Open Arms — program has attracted growing numbers of Viet Cong defectors — 11,751 this year and 59,975 since it began in 1963. But most defectors have been enlisted soldiers, low-ranking members of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong's political arm, or impressed laborers. A Viet Cong lieutenant colonel is the highest ranking military defector reported so far.

Defectors have been settled in camps for indoctrination, education and job training. Some former guerrillas have joined militia units while others have returned to rice farming.

The new plan has been under study more than seven months and was mentioned in the communiqué at the end of the seven-nation Manila conference on Vietnam last October. American officials have urged its adoption but some Vietnamese leaders who were reluctant to welcome back their enemies have opposed it.

The plan was to have been announced when South Vietnam's new constitution went into effect April 1 but was withdrawn at the last minute.

LaFollette Says Credit Too Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bronson La Follette, Wisconsin attorney general, said today the cost of credit is shockingly high.

"Study after study has shown that for most kinds of consumer credit the equivalent annual interest rates can be as high as 30 per cent or more," La Follette told a Senate banking subcommittee headed by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. He was testifying in support of a "Truth in Lending" bill.

His statement brought from Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, the comment that perhaps La Follette, because of his youth was enthusiastic. He then asked him whether he was saying that rates by commercial banks are "shockingly high."

No, he was not, La Follette replied.

"Credit unions?"

"No."

Bennett said banks and credit unions comprise more than 50 per cent of the credit institutions.

La Follette said then he would amend his statement that the cost of credit is shockingly high by applying it to such things as retail sales contracts.

Asked by Bennett if responsible retail distributors were "getting away with this kind of thing?" La Follette replied:

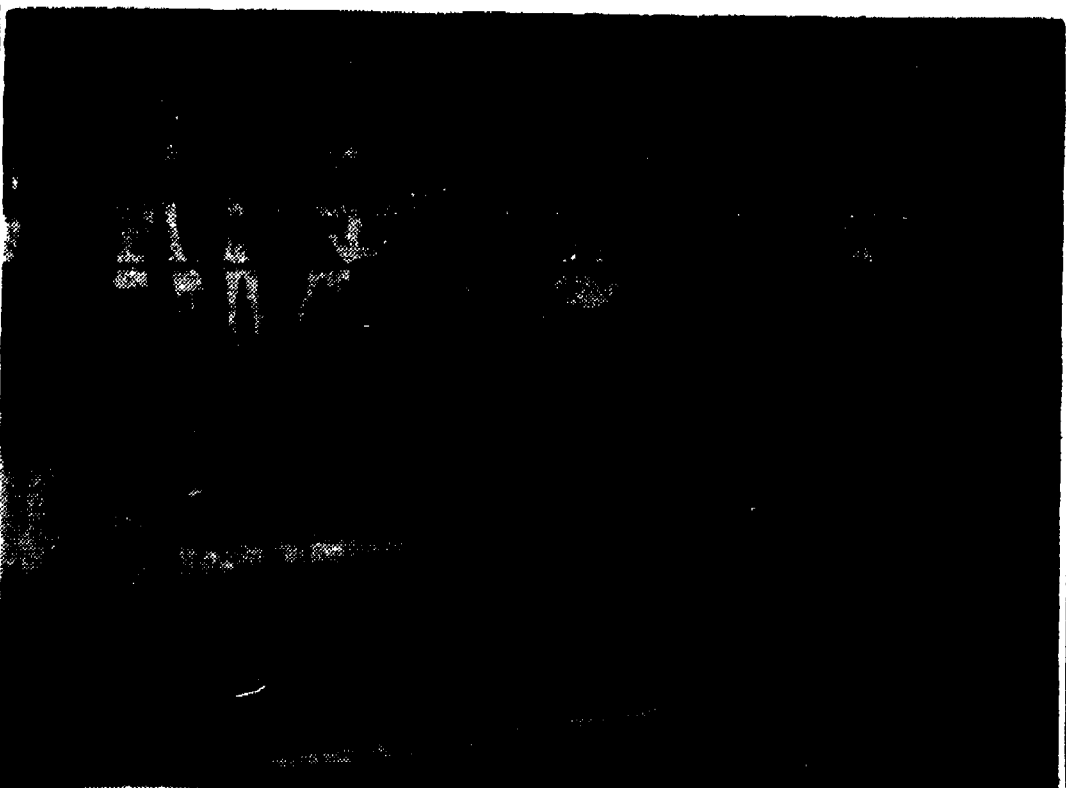

"No. Those companies which charge excessive interest rates are in the vast minority."

Louisville Protesters Dispersed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — About 150 open housing advocates attempted to march in defiance of a court order again Tuesday night but their demonstration was marked by frequent arrests and the use of tear gas to disperse a jeering, cursing crowd of 600 hecklers.

Police Chief William Dindner clamped down on the open housing supporters immediately after they assembled in the city's all-white South End.

Within two minutes, the chief arrested the Rev. A.D. Williams King, brother of Dr. Martin Luther King, for parading without a permit. He was released on bail. The marchers, most of them in the early 20s and clad in topcoats in the chilly air, sat on a sidewalk and refused to move.

Police kept hecklers at bay. When the crowd became unruly, 12 canisters of tear gas were fired. The crowd moved several blocks downwind and was kept there.

About 40 demonstrators and 10 hecklers were arrested, one of the latter for shooting cherry bombs into the demonstrators with a sling shot.

Two marchers were injured. Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay was an unexpected speaker at an earlier rally of housing supporters. He said he was upset to hear about a pregnant girl being hit by a rock thrown by a white heckler during an earlier demonstration.

Respect Women

"While I am sympathetic to the open housing cause here," Clay said, "I hate to see so many women having to confront the enemy."

He added, "We will never be respected as a people until we respect our women."

During the meeting, the Rev. W. J. Hodge, a leader in the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, said his group urged full-scale boycott of all downtown stores to apply pressure on the city's aldermen to pass an open housing ordinance. The board rejected such a law last week.

Management Incompetence Alleged

Known Flaws Not Corrected Before Apollo Fire, Investigator Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman probing the Apollo fire charged today the spacecraft's contractor didn't correct problems cited in a report he says space officials are suppressing.

"Why are they hiding it?" asked Rep. William F. Ryan, D-N.Y., member of a subcommittee that keeps watch on the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. "NASA should not try to keep the full facts from the American people."

Spacecraft Builders Ryan said a summary of the so-called Phillips report "found insufficient competence in key management and technical positions" at North American Aviation, Inc., 16 months before the tragic fire.

Direct Contribution Ryan said in the interview that "on the basis of the summary of the Phillips report and the findings of the Apollo review board, in my opinion it is apparent that North American never did correct the problems that were identified by Gen. Phillips."

Caucus Finds No Misconduct

GOP Chief Assembly Clerk Accused of Improper Lobbying

MADISON (AP)—Accusations of improper lobbying against Assembly Chief Clerk Arnold W. F. Langner have been declared "unsubstantiated in fact" by the Republican caucus.

The Republicans pondered the problem for about two hours Tuesday in a closed-door caucus before announcing they could find no evidence of wrong doing.

"Unless and until charges substantiated in fact are brought to the attention of the caucus, no disciplinary action is called for or anticipated by the Republican caucus at this time," a prepared statement by the party said.

Langner, a registered beer lobbyist until last October, was accused of questionable conduct by articles Tuesday in the Wisconsin State Journal the University of Wisconsin student newspaper. The stories said he had used Assembly messengers to carry on activities connected with his former lobbying job. Langner spent about 40 minutes before the caucus members explaining his position on each of the accusations. He declined to comment upon his appearance after emerging from the caucus room.

Assembly Minority Leader Robert Huber, D-West Allis, said he would ask that Langner also attend the Democratic caucus to offer his explanations of the situation. After hearing the chief clerk, Huber said the Democrats will decide whether they want to push the issue further.

Ryan said Phillips' findings — as indicated in the summary of his report — coincide so closely with the deficiencies found by review board on the Apollo accident that it is "hard to believe that the deficiencies... did not contribute directly to the accident."

Ryan asked NASA officials to submit the Phillips report for committee examination.

In testimony before the Senate Space Committee, NASA's associate director for manned space flight, Dr. George E. Mueller, said space officials believe deficiencies cited in the Phillips report had nothing to do with the cause of the Apollo fire.

Don't be Afraid to be In Charge

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The player who stays in the driver's seat usually has an advantage. This became clear to several thousand students who played today's hand recently in the annual Intercollegiate Bridge Championships.

Declarer should play dummy's king of spades at the first trick. Dummy's spades are all of equal value, but most defenders will take the ace if you play the king while they may have second thoughts if you play the queen or jack.

If East takes his ace of spades at the first trick South makes the slam. Regardless of East's return, South draws just two rounds of trumps and then takes the rest of dummy's spades. West cannot ruff because he is out of trumps.

Declarer gets to his hand with a club or a diamond to ruff his last spade with dummy's remaining trump. This is exactly a side suit to draw the last trump. Then he can put his cards on the table and claim the dummy.

Holds Up Ace
East can defeat the contract by refusing to take the first trick. This leaves East in the driver's seat able to cope with any play that South tries.

If South draws two rounds of trumps before resuming the play of the spades, East wins with the ace of spades and leads a third trump. This prevents declarer from ruffing his last spade in the dummy.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S-A 10 4 3, H-6 3 2, D-4 3, C-J 8 6 4. What do you say?
Answer: Bid two spades. You have five points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, which is barely enough for the response. You are swayed by the fact that you have good 4-card support for partner's major suit. If partner opened with one heart you would pass instead of responding.

Council Votes Officials Must Be at Meetings

No Second for Motion to Dismiss New London Lawyer

NEW LONDON — A request by City Atty. S. W. Krostue that he be relieved from mandatory attendance at council meetings was turned down by the city council Tuesday for lack of a second on a motion.

Ald. Fred Noack (3rd) moved that Krostue's request be granted, but the motion died.

Rules of the council, adopted Tuesday, require the director of public works, police chief and city attorney to attend all meetings.

Will Attend

Krostue said the council didn't need a city attorney at 99 percent of its meetings. "I am elected, and if the council orders I will have to attend," he said.

"I have attended meetings for 19 years as city attorney," Krostue said. He cited policies of other cities where the attorney isn't required to attend all meetings.

In other reorganizational business Gilbert Kroll was re-elected president of the council; Matt Burton was re-elected to the planning commission, and the First State and New London National banks were designated official depositories.

Special committee members renamed were O. W. Capener and Theodore Thomas, board of appeals; Richard Berglund and L. H. Brown, planning commission, and Kenneth Meating, police and fire commission.

Llewellyn Longrie was reappointed as weed commissioner.

Auctioneer H. J. Jennerjohn, Hortonville, donated his services Sunday afternoon when he auctioned off all the removable articles from the St. Martin Lutheran Church, Clintonville. The church is being razed and a new edifice will be built. Donald Moldenhauer, Clintonville, was the successful bidder on these light fixtures. To the right of Jennerjohn are Herman Gardner, the cashier, and Oscar Schroeder, clerk. (Laird Photo)

Chamber of Commerce Seeks Housing Authority at Chilton

Council to Meet With Officials To Discuss Development Plans

CHILTON — A housing authority, to establish low rental housing for the community's elderly citizens, was requested of the city council in a letter presented by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

The letter stated that Reedsville and Brillion both are in the process of developing housing for the elderly with federal cost participation. The chamber claimed the establishment of the low rental property for the elderly would provide additional housing for families employed by local industry.

The council agreed to meet with the chamber and Ray Klieber, Brillion housing authority representative, to discuss the possibility of a development here.

Ask for Survey

In other action the council ordered its engineering consultant to survey property on the southwest corner of Main and Madison streets.

The land is owned by Standard Oil Co. and is the setting of a service station. The city originally donated 10 feet of the property to the oil company and now hopes to reclaim the land so that the intersection can be improved. This would be part of a general E. Main Street reconstruction program.

An oil company representative, at an earlier meeting with the council, rejected the idea but advised that a survey could be made and findings submitted to the Chicago office for a ruling.

Could Condemn

City officials felt that if a survey is completed they could proceed with condemnation proceedings if necessary.

In other business the council:

— Heard request by property owners on the eastside of Memorial Drive for curb and gutter. It was suggested that to expedite the program, that waivers be obtained from property owners. This would eliminate the need for a public hearing. Five residents are involved.

— Authorized the extension of storm sewers and catch basin on the west-end of the Masonic Temple lot line to eliminate flooding when heavy rains force water out over the sidewalk.

Cost of installation would be approximately $500 with the Masonic Temple assuming cost of hook-up.

— Explain Program

— Heard communication from Al Larson, member of the Chilton Board of Education and the Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) 10 board that two state educators will be present at city hall to explain the new vocational education concept at 10 a.m. Monday morning and urged all elected officials to attend.

— Granted licenses for Goal Bottling Co., to sell bottled milk, by their representative Rosie's Refreshments.

— Named election officials to work at the polls for the May 2 referendum.

Council Approves Plan To Seek Housing Funds

New London Will Submit Application for Federal Aid in Proposed Low-Rental Project

NEW LONDON — A resolution approving the New London Housing Authority's application for federal funds for 120 low rental units was adopted Tuesday by the city council.

Council approval was needed before the authority could proceed with its application for approval of the proposed construction of 120 units by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Plans are to construct 60 units as soon as possible for occupation by the elderly. Rental of the units would be between $35 and $45 a month.

What the remaining 60 units will be constructed for hasn't been determined by the authority. The units may be used for low income persons or for the elderly.

Mayor Harry Emans said the authority would tour a housing development in La Crosse Saturday to formulate an idea of the type of construction to best suit local needs.

A park board request to advertise for bids was conditionally approved with the stipulation that plans and specifications for the building at Franklin Square Park be approved by the board of public works prior to advertising.

The proposed $5,000 building will have restroom facilities for the park and an office for the chamber of commerce.

Director Rehired

Ray Pelishek, public works director, was rehired for three years by the council.

Ald. Jerome Zaig (1st), finance chairman, reported that the committee hadn't received the auditors' report on available funds for underground utility work in the northern part of the city in conjunction with the proposed urbanization of the U.S. 45 and State 54 intersection.

Zaig said if the council approved the project he suggested the work — sanitary sewers and water mains — be let on bids to a contractor so it wouldn't interfere with other city projects.

GOP Caucus Split on Age For Drinking

Sixth District Party In Agreement on International Matters

GRAFTON — Caucusing Sixth District Republicans found it easy to take tough stands on national and international issues here Monday evening but a resolution which directly affects the home front was another matter.

Unanimous approval was given to strongly worded resolutions on Vietnam, east-west trade, the U.S. Supreme Court, tax sharing, monetary and fiscal responsibility and a farmers' council.

But when the GOP caucus was faced with a decision on a proposed uniform 21-year-old drinking law, the unity faded and after a lengthy discussion, the resolution was finally tabled.

Opposition to the proposal was led by state legislators, mainly Fond du Lac assemblyman Earl McEassy, who felt the caucus should leave the age limit up to the lawmakers in Madison.

Legislature to Decide

McEassy, who co-authored the highway safety bill, said he favored a uniform drinking age but felt the group should "reserve the judgement to the legislature what the age should be."

When McEassy amended the resolution to drop the age limitation, District Chairman Bernard Zeigler asked for a five-minute recess to allow the seven counties to poll their delegations so the motion could be seconded.

Assemblyman Jack Steinhilber, speaking for the Winnebago County delegation, said he had "grave misgivings" on the 21 year age minimum. A spokesman for Ozaukee County also seconded the amendment.

In a voice vote, the amendment failed.

Another amendment was offered from the floor to make the age limit 19. It received no second.

3 Weeks Vacation for Public Works Employees After 12 Years Service

WAUPACA — City council members granted board of public works employees three weeks vacation after 12 years of service at Tuesday's final meeting of the old council.

The plan calls for one week vacation after one year of employment, two weeks after the first year until the 12th year of employment.

New London Lawyer To Attend Firearms Course at Indiana

NEW LONDON — Patrolman Richard Fritz will attend the University of Indiana "Police Firearms Instructor Course" May 15.

The course is designed for personnel who are to be trained as department firearms instructors. Fritz will be classified as a certified firearms instructor after completing the course.

Stressed in the school will be the techniques of revolver and shotgun use.

Forest Junction Church Dedicates Furnishings

FOREST JUNCTION — At Sunday morning services at the Evangelical United Brethren Church the Rev. Theodore Jordan dedicated the communion cup racks and holders on the church pews.

These were given by Mrs. Robert Haese and her daughter, Janet, in memory of Robert Haese who died Feb. 1, 1966 in an auto accident. Foam rubber cushions for the pews' book racks, to silence noise of removing and placing books, also were provided by Mrs. Haese and daughter.

Topsy Door-Knocker Fined in Waupaca

WAUPACA — Chester Pomplum, 67, 510 S. State St., Waupaca, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was fined $15 and costs Tuesday when he appeared in Municipal Justice Court.

Pomplum was arrested by city police near the intersection of County Trunk K and Constance Road at 12:05 a.m. Sunday after they received a complaint from a resident in the area that a man was wandering around in back yards knocking on doors.

Council Mum on Issue

Test Legality of Mayor's Dual Role

NEW LONDON — Ald. Byron Christian (5th) sent the old city council out on a controversial note Tuesday.

Christian questioned whether Mayor Harry S. Emans was within legal bounds serving both as mayor and president of the utility commission.

Christian's plea for discussion from the council fell on deaf ears. He could raise no discussion from the other 10 members.

"The mayor is holding two offices as a member of the city council and a member of the utility commission," he observed. Christian cited city and state ordinances and statutes which forbid a council member to serve on the commission.

"Something should be done to clear this up," he said.

Lax in Seeking Rulings

City Atty. S. W. Krostue said he had never given an opinion on the matter and hadn't been approached by members of the council for one.

"Council members have been lax in coming to me for rulings on questions which need a legal ruling and study," he said.

Emans conceded there had been talk about his serving on both bodies for some time and he would welcome a ruling on the legality of it.

New Members on Key Committees

Reorganization Affects County Highway, Executive Panels

New members were elected to the Outagamie County Board's executive and highway committees during Tuesday afternoon's reorganization session.

Supv. Stanley Perkins, Medina, was unanimously chosen to represent the agriculture and conservation committee on the board's 11-man executive committee.

Perkins replaced Supv. George Kroes, Town of Vandenberg, who was elected to the five-member highway committee.

The only incumbent highway committee member who was not re-elected was Kaukauna Supv. Matt Verfurth. Verfurth had served on the highway committee since November of 1950.

Vote for Five

Highway committee members are chosen when each supervisor votes for five candidates out of the slate. The outcome of the vote was Supv. Ervin Conradt, Town of Bovina, 36 votes; Supv. I. A. Grunwaldt, Village of Black Creek, 38; Kroes, 35; Supv. P. J. Heenan, Appleton, 32; Supv. Dan Williams, Combined Locks, 30, and Verfurth, 28.

Chosen to the executive committee by board vote in addition to Perkins, were Appleton Supvs. John Dietz, George Greisdorf and Patrick Mares, Supv. Emmett Root, rural Hortonville; Chris Roepcke, rural Seymour; Russell DeLaHunt, the Kaukauna, and Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan.

Dietz defeated Kimberly Supv.

Boys Must Register for New London Baseball

NEW LONDON — Deadline for Boy's Baseball League registration is Wednesday. Forms are available at the schools for boys between 8 and 15 years old.

Allen Lubinski, league director, asks that persons interested in umpiring, coaching and managing to contact him. The annual draft and organizational meeting will be at 8 p.m. May 3 at Ebert's Hall.

Waupaca Will Dredge

WAUPACA — In an attempt to reclaim well No. 3 on the east shore of Mirror Lake, city council members Tuesday approved the dredging of an old 30-foot-long ice house slip and filling it with clay.

It is believed lake water seeping through the muck which fills the slip is affecting the well and it has been recommended by well drillers that the slip be filled with clay to form a natural barrier against the lake water. The depth of the slip is not known. A swampy area to the north of the well also will be covered with sand.

Iver Oerter, city engineer, said the city has a considerable amount of money invested in the well. The well was taken out of use last summer during a dry period when its water developed an unfavorable taste and odor.

Tests proved, however, that the water was safe for drinking.

Councilmen also approved hiring Faulks Brothers Construction Co. at a cost of $1,490, to fill a washout at the end of the storm sewer at the south end of Harrison Street. During the spring thaw and rains a large amount of fill washed out and several feet of the storm sewer pipe was exposed. An estimated 100 yards of field stone also will be used as a spillway to prevent further washouts.

A request from the City of Wauwage to rent the city of Waupaca's sewer rodder was approved by the council. The equipment will be rented out along with two operators at a rate to be determined by the city engineer.

Preliminary Work Begins This Summer

WAUPACA — County Board supervisors Tuesday approved allocating $105,000 a year for the next four years to rebuild U.S. 10 between Waupaca and the Portage County line.

The allocation, requested by the State Highway Commission, will come from state highway aids.

The new section of highway will join the Waupaca beltline, which was opened last year, on the east end and will extend to Amherst Junction in Portage County on the west.

Donald Cronkrite, State Highway Commission district engineer of Wisconsin Rapids, explained the commission's program in the county for the past two years, and revealed future construction plans.

Largest Project

Largest of the projects undertaken by the state in Waupaca County within the past two years was the construction of the $2 million U.S. 10 Waupaca beltline and $200,000 in improvements for State 22 and 49 in the City of Waupaca as part of the beltline project.

Other major improvements in the past two years included resurfacing U.S. 45 from New London to Bear Creek at a cost of $139,000; widening and resurfacing U.S. 10 between Fremont and the east county line at a cost of $259,000; improving a wayside on State 54 at Royalton for $10,000, and building park roads and landscaping at Hartman Creek State Park, west of Waupaca, for $85,000.

Cronkrite said the U.S. 10 project between Waupaca and Amherst Junction originally was scheduled to begin in August of 1967, but when federal aids were

Students in grades seven through 12 have entered projects in the festival which is co-chaired by James Mergy and Mrs. Kenneth Flanagan.

Judges will be Wanieta Steinert and Dudley Huppler, professional artists, art; and James Mergy, Walter Schlissle and Alfred Lau, mathematics and science. Judging will be at 10 a.m. Sunday.

Supervisors Vote Against New Financial Structure

After working its way out of a parliamentary entanglement which lasted nearly two hours, the Outagamie County Board Tuesday morning voted against the establishment of a finance committee.

On the ruling of Marvin Babbitt, board vice chairman, Seymour, the resolution required a two-thirds vote for approval since it involved changing county board rules. The first vote on the resolution had been 25 to 23 in favor of the plan, but two supervisors — Sylvester Lenz and Theodore Kempa, both of Kimberly — changed their votes to make the final count 24 "for" and 23 "against" the resolution.

In effect, the plan submitted by eight supervisors, would have combined the finance subcommittee of the executive committee with the purchasing and accounts committee. The purchasing and accounts committee would have been abolished, and all financial responsibility would have been taken away from the executive committee. The five-man finance committee would have been elected by the county board, with the chairman and vice-chairman serving as ex-officio members.

Suspend Rules

The parliamentary entanglement began shortly after the resolution was introduced.

Finally, at 11:40 a.m., the board voted on the resolution and, after the two Kimberly supervisors changed their votes, it lost 24 to 23.

The eight sponsors of the plan were Supvs. Kloes, Charles Wussow, John Schreier and Arthur Hoolihan, all of Appleton; Norman Austin, Town of Oneida; Walter Fredericks, New London; R. Clayton Van Dyck, Kaukauna, and Ervin Conradt, Town of Bovina.

In general, the resolution split financial authority away from the executive committee. Duties remaining for the executive committee would have been general supervision of administrative affairs, acting as a sort of "legislative advisory committee," administration of the county's civil service ordinance, supervising the office of Executive Secretary Alvin Woehler, recommendation of standing board rules, and attendance to all matters referred to it by the county board.

The finance committee would have had the responsibility of supervising all purchases and expenses of all county government units and committees, except the highway committee. In addition, the committee would have had the major responsibility of preparing the annual county budget.

Waupaca Court Aide Granted Salary Boost

WAUPACA — A salary increase of $45 per month, effective May 1, was granted to Mrs. Mildred Anderson, register in probate, Tuesday by the county board of supervisors.

The increase is the maximum allowed according to a job analysis and salary schedule which was approved by the board last year. At the present time Mrs. Anderson is at step "B" of the schedule with a salary of $405 per month.

The salary increase was recommended by the finance and audit committee and County Judge Wendell McKenry. Mrs. Anderson has held the position for 15 years.

Edward Rollman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rollman, route 3, Brillion, a pupil at St. Mary School, Chilton, won the Calumet County Catholic spelling bee. He won the title when the runner-up, Mary Beth Koch, St. Augustine, Chilton, failed to correctly spell "rubicund" which he is writing on the blackboard under the supervision of Sister Maria, OFS, contest pronouncer. Board Asked To Endorse Border Change

Vocational-Technical Education Districts Line Switch Proposed

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The State Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education was urged Tuesday to endorse a re-alignment of central Wisconsin boundaries concerning proposed vocational - technical education districts.

The changes could consolidate Portage, Wood and Marathon counties in one of the districts into which the state is to be divided by 1970 under the vocational training program.

Waushara and Marquette counties have also asked permission to withdraw from District 14. No action was taken.

The board postponed action on another request—from Dane County to be made a one-county district.

Closely Related

Portage County is part of proposed District 14 based in Wood County. Portage County officials said the Wood-Portage County area is closer economically and socially to Marathon County, which is in proposed six-county District 15.

The board approved new northern Wisconsin districts representing changes in boundaries originally proposed.

They are:

District 1 comprising Dunn, Oneida and Forest counties, and portions of Iron and Lincoln counties with Florence County given an option to join.

District 1 comprising Dunn, Chippewa, Eau Claire, Pepin and Clark counties.

District 17 comprising Douglas, Bayfield, Ashland, Washburn, Sawyer, Barron and Rusk counties, and most of Iron County.

The board's boundary decisions are subject to approval by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

A request that central Price County be allowed to join District 16 produced a board warning that it might isolate a northern portion of the county from District 15.

The board said the vocational school law requires district areas be contiguous.

The board also set up District 18 comprising Burnett, Polk, Pierce and St. Croix counties.

Valley Troopers Cited for Good Driving Records

Two Fox Valley troopers were among 26 Wisconsin state traffic patrolmen honored by the National Safety Council Tuesday for their good driving records.

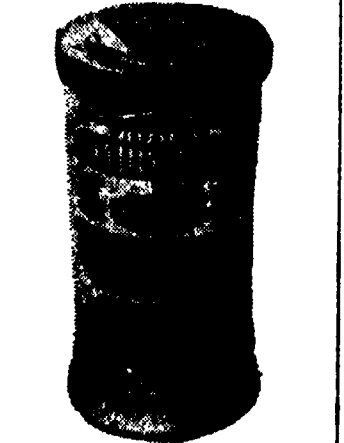

They were Richard Maue, 1733 N. Division St., Appleton, and Harry Parker, Waupaca. The National Safety Council awards are given state police-men having no reportable accidents for specified periods of time.

Maue, a state patrolman for six and a half years, received a five-year award. Maue, who works in District 3, was stationed at Madison for two years before being transferred to Appleton.

Parker, a patrolman for about four years, was transferred to Waupaca from Beloit last October.

Retirement Fund Chief Questions Annuity Plan

MADISON — The manager of the Wisconsin Retirement Fund which now has more than 100,000 state and local civil service annuitants objected to the legislature Tuesday about a proposal that would put thousands of them under a variable annuity plan unless they ask for exclusion.

Clyde Sullivan, chief of staff of the vast state-operated pension program for state and local service workers, appeared to express reservations about the proposal endorsed by Gov. Warren P. Knowles in his budget bill and supported by the state investment board which is in charge of investments for several state pension funds.

Under the variable annuity plan, a part of each annuitant's account would be invested in common stocks, which typically return a higher rate of gain than do bonds, mortgages and other available investments.

Court Grants One Annulment, Two Divorces

Two divorces and an annulment have been granted in Outagamie County Court Branch 1.

Rosanne Theunis, 19, 1126 W. Taylor St., received an annulment from Frank D. Theunis, 24, who presently is in the county jail serving a 30-day sentence for disorderly conduct.

The couple was married Aug. 27, 1966, and had no children.

Edward J. Arndt Jr., 46, 1935 N. Alvin St., was divorced by Sylvia Arndt, 42, 313½ W. Winnebago St., on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple was married July 5, 1941, and had one child. A property settlement was approved.

LaVerne Suttner, 44, who lives in Florence County, was divorced from Thomas A. Suttner, 31, Seymour, on a charge of cruel and inhuman treatment. Married July 12, 1960, the couple had three children. The court delayed a decision as to alimony and division of property.

Payroll Savings Drive to Start

The Appleton 1967 "Share in Freedom" payroll savings campaign will be kicked off on Thursday, at a noon luncheon at the Riverview Country Club.

Gordon Ruggaber, assistant secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., will be the keynote speaker. A film also will be shown.

Harold C. Adams, president of the First National Bank of Appleton, who serves the U.S. Savings Bonds program in a dual role as chairman of the Outagamie County Committee and Appleton "urban chairman" of the payroll savings committee, will be host to local business, civic and fraternal leaders.

More than 50 executives among the larger employers of Appleton will attend.

Firemen Called When Television Set Burns

KAUKAUNA — Firemen were called at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday to the Peter Derks residence, 135½ W. Second St., when a short in a TV transformer caused the appliance to burn.

Under the variable annuity plan, a part of each annuitant's account would be invested in common stocks, which typically return a higher rate of gain than do bonds, mortgages and other available investments.

Light Participation

Under the present law the annuitant is entitled to invest up to 50 per cent of his own pension account in such equities, but must certify his desire to do so. Participation has been relatively light. Currently it is about 23 per cent of all those eligible. Under the alternative plan now before the legislature, an annuitant would be included under the plan, unless he expressly chose to be excluded.

Sullivan agreed that the variable annuity option, where used, has shown handsome profits for fund members, but he said there is no guarantee of such gains in any year or over the long range. There is a tendency for inertia among civil servants, he cautioned, that would prevent many of them from excluding themselves, and would bring blame upon the legislature in the event a future year shows unfavorable earnings under the variable plan and beneficiaries are suddenly made aware of the fact that they are members of it.

Element of 'Coercion'

He intimated that there is an element of coercion in the proposal, as he likened it to private corporation investment practices.

"The legislature would not force private insurance companies to invest in common stocks, with the policy holders taking the risk," he suggested.

Reactions of legislative finance committee members indicated that the variable annuity provision may be removed from the budget bill and introduced later for a separate review on its merits. Such a bill would then be required to clear a special standing committee on retirement programs for public employees.

Apostolates Waive 3-Year-Marriage Rule for Adoptions

The Rev. Donald R. Burkart, director of the Appleton Apostolate, has announced a change in the regulations on adoptions made through Apostolates in the Green Bay diocese.

The rule that required a couple to be married a minimum of three years before adopting a first child now has been eliminated, Father Burkart said.

The change was announced to members of the Apostolate's advisory board at a quarterly meeting of the executive committee in St. Mary's School hall in Chilton.

Vincent Reinboer, Chilton, is new president of the advisory board, replacing Harold Barker, Appleton, who resigned in February when he moved from the area.

Band Director At Lawrence To Head Clinic

Fred G. Schroeder
Invited to Chicago School-Band Festival

Lawrence University band director Fred G. Schroeder has been named by the Chicago Board of Education as head clinician for a school-band festival in that city Friday and Saturday.

Schroeder, a professor of music, will conduct workshops for secondary school instrumentalists and their directors prior to a city-wide band competition to be held on the second day.

Demonstration Planned
He will demonstrate conducting and teaching techniques and discuss instrumental problems during a series of rehearsals with the young musicians. The clinic is one of several which Schroeder has led this season. In November he conducted Lawrence bandmen in a materials clinic previewing Wisconsin festival music for school musicians. In January he and his students held instrumental workshops for secondary students at South Milwaukee High School during a two-day concert trip to southern Wisconsin cities. In March he presented a similar clinic in Jefferson for musicians from four area schools.

Schedules Clinics
Two future clinics are also on the Lawrence professor's schedule. On April 29 he will adjudicate and conduct a clinic at Sheboygan for bandmen from that city, Manitowoc, Fond du Lac and Menasha. On May 6 he will take his college musicians to Sun Prairie for a concert and workshop presentation.

Schroeder holds a bachelor of music education degree from the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, and a master of arts degree in education from Northwestern University. He also studied at the Paris Conservatory.

Since joining the Lawrence faculty in 1951 he has partici-

Judge Upholds Verdict; Gives Youth Probation

Indicating that he wished he had an alternative, Outagamie County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren Monday afternoon upheld the verdict of a 12-member jury which found an 18-year-old Appleton youth guilty of taking part in robbing three teen-agers Aug. 26, 1965.

"... I know of no way the verdict can be set aside," Judge Van Susteren said before placing Frank E. Bowers, 1408 N. Wayne St., on probation to the State Department of Public Welfare for one year. A jury, after hearing a day and a half of testimony last week, found Bowers guilty of the charge brought by Appleton police.

Gary Schabo, 19, 1419 N. Ulman St., Bowers' companion, was sentenced to the state reformatory in September 1966 after he pleaded guilty of taking part in robbing three young boys of less than $1 and a jackknife. The robbery occurred on the E. College Avenue bridge.

Asks New Trial

Bowers' attorney Monday afternoon asked that the jury verdict be set aside and a new trial be granted, and that the charge be reduced to disorderly conduct. The attorney said the robbery count "is too big a charge to fit into the small bottle of facts."

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer objected to the motions, saying the charge was proven "to the satisfaction of a 12-member jury."

Judge Van Susteren, although denying the attorney's motions, said he did not believe some of the testimony of the three boys who were robbed, and explained

Wirtz Will Arrive by Air Thursday

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz arrives in Appleton late Thursday afternoon on an Air Wisconsin flight to deliver the keynote address at the annual Area Chamber of Commerce dinner-meeting here.

The 46th annual meeting will be held at the Conway Motor Hotel, starting at 6:45 p.m. Chamber officials also announced today that Wirtz, who has been No. 1 man in trucking and railroad industry mediation conferences in Washington, will be introduced by U.S. Sen. Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.).

Senator Nelson also is expected here sometime Thursday afternoon. Nelson will be back Saturday to address a Lawrence University alumni group and to give the main talk at the Annual Association of Wisconsin Planners conference at 1 p.m. at the Conway.

Wirtz and Nelson are expected to leave Appleton after the Chamber banquet meeting, depending on transportation connections.

"I am convinced the jury just did not think this was robbery," the judge said. After explaining, "I sincerely wish there was something I could do about it," Judge Van Susteren said, "... I can make an appropriate sentence to fit the crime."

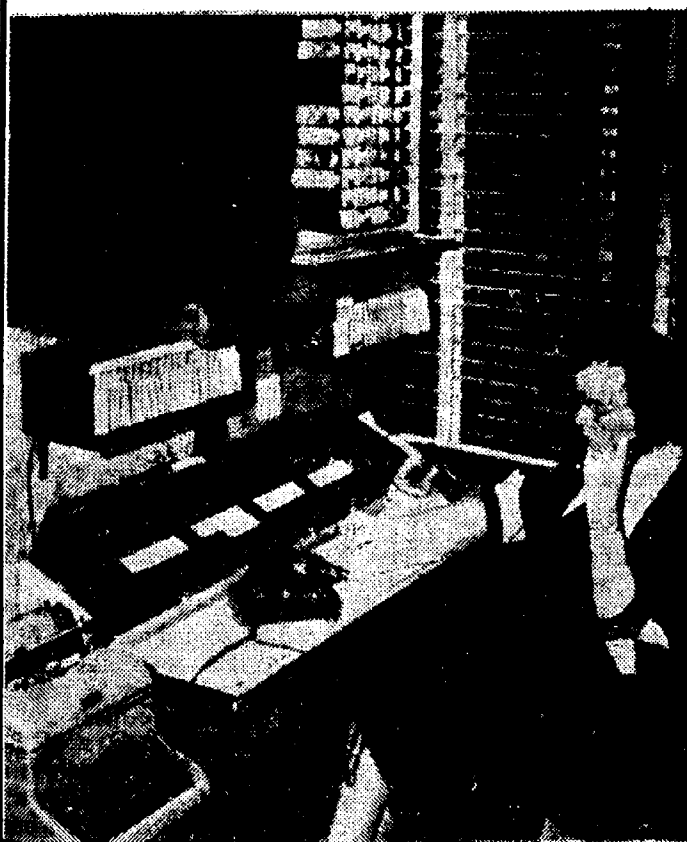

"The ordinary sentence for robbery would not be appropriate in this case," the judge told Bowers.

18 YEARS — of Minding Other People's Business!

Periodically through the years since I started my telephone answering business on April 19, 1949, I have run Anniversary ads celebrating our various birthdays. I well remember how excited I was when I ran the first one in 1950 (picture below). My survival in business that first year was a miracle. In fact the next few years were all pretty dismal, but finally in April, 1954, we were able to report some progress.

April 8, 1950

I have kept copies of all these early anniversary ads and in reading them over, I find that what I wrote then I can easily quote and repeat in April of 1967:

In My 1956 Ad I Wrote:

"When I look back over the past years since that day in April, 1949, when I started this telephone answering service, I can only think of how much I owe to so many people." This 1956 ad also said "No resume of my years in business could be complete without a special word of appreciation to all the girls who ever worked for Telephone Secretaries. The success or failure of a service organization such as ours is determined largely by the personnel involved. We have been particularly fortunate in having competent help here at Telephone Secretaries".

In April, 1959, My Anniversary Ad Said:

"This 10th birthday means a great deal to me. It is still a wonderful surprise that our telephone answering service has survived the crucial years and that it appears to be a success and for this, we are very grateful to Appleton & its wonderful people."

Margaret Walsh, President
April 1967

we were able to report our first real expansion—service into the Kaukauna area and the opening of a new office in the First National Bank Building, Neenah to serve the Neenah-Menasha area.

The past couple of years have been very exciting for us—we have added two-way mobile radio service and one-way paging; we have put lines into New London and the biggest progress of all was opening an office in September, 1966 in Oshkosh so that we are now truly able to serve the Fox River Valley.

No recap of my years in business would be complete without a word of thanks to the Wisconsin Telephone company personnel, who through the years have serviced our account.

This 18th birthday means a great deal to us at Telephone Secretaries — it signals our real coming of age and we look forward to continued growth in the Fox Cities area. It is a privilege to live and do business in this wonderful area.

In Thailand was designed to save SEATO "from complete paralysis."

The Thailand-Philippine stance emphasized sharp policy differences among members of the eight-member treaty organization — with the dispute centering on the Vietnam war.

France, which opposes U. S. policy in Vietnam, is boycotting the two-day meeting altogether while Pakistan — which also has criticized the U. S. position — has sent an ambassador rather than a minister-rank representative.

'Curt Refusal'

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, serving as chairman of the meeting, used the opening session to extend a new peace appeal to North Vietnam. But he was doubtful the offer would get more than the "curt refusal" he said has been North Vietnam's previous response to peace offers.

The SEATO ministers also were to consider a request from the Philippines for more than $1 million in a counter-insurgency program in central Luzon.

At a closed session late Tuesday, South Vietnam's foreign minister, Tran Van Do, said North Vietnam has a vast potential for manpower resources and a reserve of about 300,000 men to send to South Vietnam. He declared the bombing and other efforts to interrupt the supplies "have not been sufficient to stop the infiltration altogether, but they have limited infiltration to a level with which we can deal."

His report, made public by SEATO, estimated that 73,900 North Vietnamese were infiltrated into the South in 1966.

Ignored for 20 Years

Soviets Start Serious Consideration of UFOs

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet scientist says there may really be such things as flying saucers from outer space.

Soviet radar screens have detected unidentified flying objects—UFOs—for 20 years, he says.

But Soviet scientists, like their colleagues in the West, are still puzzled about what such UFOs really are.

The scientist, identified only as F. Ziegler, was writing in the current issue of the illustrated Soviet youth magazine Cmena.

He offered five possible explanations for UFOs, including visitors from outer space. He called this alternative "extremely speculative."

"But," he added, "as the UFO problem has not yet been solved, different explanations, including extremes, are possible."

The article took the lid off a subject rarely discussed in the press here.

In the 1950s the Soviet press scoffed at American reports of flying saucers as just so much cold war propaganda.

By those Soviet accounts, the Americans tried to explain away the "saucers" as some sort of new, secret Soviet weapon.

Reports of flying saucers sighted in the Soviet Union, in the Caucasus and in Central Asia, also were ridiculed here.

Serious Study

Then for several years the Soviet press remained silent on the whole question. The Cmena article showed that the UFO issue is being reopened, this time as an object of serious scientific study.

Ziegler was identified as one of the editors of a book, "Inhabited Cosmos," being prepared for publication here. The book will discuss the possibility of living beings in space and efforts to communicate with them.

The chief editor of the book is B. P. Konstantinov, who, as a vice president of the Soviet academy of science, is one of this country's most respected scientists.

In his magazine article, Ziegler said the "angel echo," a UFO detected by radar, is constantly observed by scientists at the Central Aerological Observatory near Moscow.

Similar observations, he said, have been made in the United States, Australia, India and Japan.

lor, the Communists fiercely attacked him for his hard line in the cold war. Premier Nikita Khrushchev frequently singled him out as a "warmonger."

One of the chief goals of Adenauer's policy was the reunification of West and East Germany, split as a result of the war. The Soviet Union balked at this, insisting that East Germany remain part of the Communist world.

Adenauer also worked steadily for the unification of Europe and helped found the Common Market.

Rose and Fell

Adenauer's long life covered a period during which his country's fortunes rose and fell dramatically. He was born in the neighboring Rhineland city of Cologne on Jan. 5, 1876, just after the close of the Franco-Prussian war. He knew the eras of Bismarck, Kaiser Wilhelm II and Adolf Hitler.

As a poor boy, the young Adenauer studied law and married into an influential family. In 1916 his first big political break came when he was chosen mayor of his native city. He held this office until 1933, when he was forced out by the Nazis for his unsympathetic attitude toward their rise to power.

He spent the 12 years of the Third Reich at his home in Rhodendorf, tending his rose garden and putting in his hobby shop.

Arrested twice by the Gestapo he and his second wife—the first died in 1916—spent their 25th wedding anniversary in prison.

Found by Allies

During the last days of the war Adenauer took refuge in a monastery in the Eifel mountains near Bonn. He was found there by allied officers.

Without the taint of a Nazi past, and full of vigor despite his age, Adenauer returned to Cologne to resume his political career. He helped found the Christian Democratic party, based on both Protestant and Catholic support. Adenauer was a devout Catholic but believed the two faiths should work together in politics to further their common ideals.

Adenauer suffered a temporary setback after being re-installed as mayor of Cologne. He was dismissed by British occupation authorities for "inefficiency." But by 1949, when he was 73 years old, he emerged as battered Germany's strongest figure. He won the chancellorship by a single vote and freely admitted it was his own.

High Opinion

The Old Man had no use for false modesty and never concealed his high opinion of himself, tended toward one-man rule. He was widely regarded as cold and austere and had few close friends. But in private life he was a warm family man, devoted to his seven children and numerous grandchildren.

As West Germany was recovering with the help of Marshall Plan aid, Adenauer won over much of the electorate his first four years in office. His Christian Democratic Party came close to winning an absolute majority in 1953, and attained this in 1957. It brought Adenauer to the height of his power.

His decline began in 1959 when he announced that he would step up to the largely ceremonial job of president, then changed his mind. This was badly received by a large segment of the public, which felt he was playing fast and loose with the new democratic system.

Lost Majority

His party lost its majority in the 1961 election, and he had to enter into coalition with the conservative Free Democratic Party, which was openly hostile to him. Then in 1962 came the Spiegel affair, a treason action against the German magazine Spiegel for an article critical of the West German armed forces.

This made the government look bumbling and authoritarian, and Adenauer had to give in to opposition from within his own party and agree to resign in the fall of 1963. He stepped down on Oct. 15 of that year, was then widely hailed as a man who had performed great services for his country.

Five anti-aircraft sites were reported silenced.

Jet Downed

Though no losses were reported in the Thai Nguyen raid, the U.S. spokesman announced a U.S. Marine A6 Intruder jet went down over North Vietnam Monday and the two crewmen are missing. It was the 506th U.S. plane reported lost in the air war against North Vietnam.

The raid on Thai Nguyen was the third major attack since the decision was made last month to try to obliterate it. The plant, built with Red Chinese help, turns out bridge girders and fuel tanks among other items.

Bad weather since the initial strikes has prevented detailed reconnaissance photos, and the Air Force has refused to speculate on how much production has been curtailed.

Ground action was generally light in South Vietnam with the headquarters communique reporting only 52 Viet Cong and 2 Americans killed and 30 Americans wounded in scattered actions.

Photos Show Aspirin Causes Stomach Bleeding

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pictures taken within the stomachs of volunteers have provided more evidence that aspirin causes bleeding, a team of researchers from the University of Wisconsin medical school said recently.

The studies also suggest that the bleeding of the stomach lining can be prevented by taking "a large quantity of sodium bicarbonate (baking soda)" along with the aspirin, said Dr. William B. Thorsen Jr. in a report at the annual meeting of the American College of Physicians.

The Wisconsin team used 32 healthy university student volunteers who swallowed a gastrocamera, a device at the end of a flexible vinyl tube which can photograph the entire inside of the stomach.

Life Expectancy Stays the Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — The life expectancy at birth of the total U.S. population in 1965 was 70.2 years, the same as in 1964, the Public Health Service reported today.

This measure represents the average number of years at the time of birth that persons may be expected to live.

Based on deaths in 1965, the average was 66.8 years for males and 73.7 years for females.

The service said these figures were almost identical with those for 1964.

MIGs Reduce Impact of U. S. Bomber Raids

Defense Official Admits Being Hurt, Though Not Seriously

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top defense official acknowledges that North Vietnam's MIG jet fighters and anti-aircraft missiles have cut down the effectiveness of U.S. bombing attacks, even though they have destroyed relatively few American planes.

Dr. John Foster, the Pentagon's research chief, also says the surface to air missiles force U.S. planes into evasive patterns that make them more vulnerable to concentrations of anti-aircraft guns.

Foster's statements were buried in a 134-page outline of defense research and development programs, submitted to a House Armed Services subcommittee two days ago.

McNamara View

Foster's statements tend to follow a different tack than those of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara who has discounted the importance of both the MIGs and the anti-aircraft missiles.

They tend to reinforce the privately expressed claims of some U.S. pilots in Vietnam.

Foster put it this way: "The enemy can use surface to air missiles to force us into awkward flight profiles which make it difficult to avoid the relatively primitive but plentiful anti-aircraft weapons."

"He can even force us to abort our strike missions by 'faking' intercepts with his scarce fighters."

"Thus, although neither the fighters nor the SAMs have had a major effect on our aircraft losses, they have reduced to some extent our efficiency of operation."

Church Extremes Attacked by Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI made a scathing attack today on extreme liberals and extreme conservatives in the Roman Catholic Church.

The Pope vented his displeasure at meeting of the commission to carry out the Vatican Ecumenical Council's changes in liturgy.

It was one of the harshest denunciations the pontiff has ever made against trends in the church that he considers go too far in the quest for modernization or fight too hard against the council's plans to bring the Church up to date.

Yugoslav Jailed for 'Hostile Propaganda'

BELGRADE (AP) — Mihajlo Mihajlov, a university lecturer who raised a lonely voice against Yugoslavia's Communist regime, was convicted today of "spreading hostile propaganda" against the country. He was sentenced to 4½ years in prison.

Right to Wear Beard Reaffirmed for Teacher

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paul S. Finot isn't Abraham Lincoln, or Socrates, or even John Muir, the naturalist. But he has the right to wear a beard in emulation of all three.

So rules California's 2nd District Court of Appeal.

The court, in reversing a Superior Court ruling Tuesday, says the U.S. Constitution gives male school teachers the right to wear beards in the classroom.

Justice Cobey said a public school teacher's right to wear a beard falls within the broad meaning of the word liberty as used in the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and comes within the "peripheral protection" of the First Amendment.

When informed of the court's decision, Finot exclaimed, "It's just wonderful — gosh, it's been a long wait — 3 years."

He never once considered "the beard more important than teaching," said Finot, adding "the principle at stake was that teachers should have the right to a private existence — or even first class citizenship."

"But symbols, under appropriate circumstances, merit constitutional protection," Finot, 43, sports a Van Dyke beard and mustache. In 1963 school officials at Pasadena

U. S. Trying to Give Vietnam Chance to Build

Former TVA Chief Studies Possibilities For Development

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — David Lilienthal, former head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, returned recently from South Vietnam with the "very strong hunch" that the future of the land and its people is very great.

"I have every reason to believe that these are people capable of building a nation given half a chance. And that is what the United States is trying to do there — give them that chance."

At President Johnson's invitation, Lilienthal toured South Vietnam to survey its long-range development possibilities. A team from his private concern, Development and Resources Corp., is now three months along in a study of the country's economy.

Work For People

The goal is to draw a long-term picture of the nation — how its valleys, waters, ports, cultures, businesses, farms can be put to work for the people.

"We are working with a nongovernmental Vietnamese group and hope to have a preliminary sketch soon," Lilienthal said in an interview. "We are trying to judge the priorities."

There is little basically new in this type of assignment for the 67-year-old Lilienthal, who, before co-founding D&R with Gordon Clapp, also a former TVA chairman, in 1955, had been chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and president of a private company. His first large-scale exposure to socio-economic development was back in the 1930's as a founding director and later chairman of TVA, the nation's largest public development project.

Worldwide Effort

Since then he and his men, among their projects in Asia, Africa and Latin America, brought a barren Iranian desert to bloom, tamed a wild valley in Colombia and provided management assistance to the Ivory Coast.

Basic to this work is a belief in the importance of the human personality. Technology and capital are necessary, "but more important still are the practical and idealistic skills by which it is possible to stir and to release the creative energies of men."

In the Vietnam job some of the problems are different from those usually encountered. None of D&R's staff especially likes to be shot at while working. The very size of the job seemed, at first, to be overwhelming.

Individualistic People

The great disparity in Vietnamese personalities was one problem. "In Vietnam you have highly individualistic people," he said. "If you take 10 people in the village you may have 10 different views of a relatively simple problem."

Certainly, it was suggested to Lilienthal, this doesn't simplify your job. "Robots would be easier," he joked.

But then he recalled: "I can't think of a more widely separate people than those who assembled at Philadelphia to write the American Constitution. The group was made up of every kind of citizen from feudal South Carolina planters to New England merchants. These people were able to work together, however, because they looked at each other as separate human beings. They understood human nature."

Human Problem

Lilienthal's first objective, then, is to understand the nature of the people and learn to work with them. He could go in, as the French did, and build beautiful canals. This would answer a technological problem but not a human one.

"Technology is merely a tool and it tends to hide the basic problem. The problem is people's spirit. I've had a bellyful about technology alone being able to provide enough. It is true nonsense."

Qualities of the Vietnamese spirit that Lilienthal views with hope include intelligence and ambition.

"They are capable, alert, sturdy, hard-working." They also have a great sense of private enterprise, Lilienthal observed. "The peasant is an example of the profit motive per excellence."

The future looks good, Lilienthal believes, not just in the area of increased agricultural production. The potential for small-scale industry in the private sector also is great. "The beginnings are there," he concludes.

Talks Often Confusing

Speech Explaining War Sought From Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (A) — President Johnson has a habit of throwing so many different things into one speech, like packing a shopping bag, his main points some times get lost in the public mind.

While he has made a number of separate statements and speeches on the war in Vietnam, with varying effectiveness, at no time has he been able to make the war critics back up. It's doubtful some of them would back up, no matter what he said.

As the critics get louder, some people have come to think he should pull the pieces together and in one long, detailed, and clearly reasoned speech devoted entirely to the war explain the American role in it, and the background.

Democratic Way His administration has harped on the American determination to see that the people of South Vietnam remain free to choose their own government in a democratic way.

This gets hooted at since after 13 years of direct U.S. help to South Vietnam the people there haven't yet been able or allowed to choose the government they want through broad elections, although they are moving in that direction.

But one of the steady, although perhaps often unnoticed, themes in the speeches of Johnson himself is this country's philosophy behind its decision to stop Communist aggression and expansion.

The philosophy is simply stated: to prevent the Reds from taking over all Southeast Asia. This can be called a selfish American reason, and to a degree it is.

Stop Aggression This country knows it couldn't survive in a world controlled by communism. Another part of the reasoning is that if the effort isn't made to stop Red aggression wherever it occurs, then there is nothing to stop it anywhere.

In his speech to the Tennessee Legislature March 15, Johnson made the point: "...if we were prepared to stay the court in Vietnam, we could help to lay the cornerstone for a diverse and independent Asia, full of promise and resolute in the cause of peaceful economic development for her long-suffering people."

And he added: "If we faltered, the forces of chaos would sweep victory and decades of strife and aggression would stretch endlessly before us. The choice was clear. We would stay the course. And we shall stay the course."

But this reasoning seems to get blurred in the sound of critical thunderclaps—or beatings, depending on the vein—booming across the country because of the American involvement. That the American concern

Commissioners Leave Welcome Gift to City

OGLESBY, Ill. (AP) — Oglesby's outgoing commissioners are presenting this northern Illinois community with a gift — half a million dollars.

Instead of spending everything and leaving the next administration with the bills, Oglesby had a cash surplus of $499,528.

It was intended to be a cooperative effort by the Southeast Asians against any Communist effort to take them over. But there was bitter complaint about the Red danger and SEATO's failure to do what it was supposed to do.

Thanat Kohman, foreign minister of Thailand blamed SEATO for its "inaction and impotency" in meeting early crises after its formation and said this encouraged the Communists to their "boldest adventure in South Vietnam."

Right now, he said, Red guer-

Bridge Construction Lags Despite State Traffic Growth

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Major bridge construction is falling "woefully behind" in spite of a frightening growth in motor vehicle traffic all over Wisconsin, the chairman of the state highway commission told the legislature Tuesday.

Testifying before the legislative joint finance committee on the commission's $355,941,000 budget proposal for the next two years, G. H. Bakke called the accumulation of bridge modernization needs "horrendous" but held out no hope for immediate financing of those needs.

But Bakke reported that a legislative interim committee on highways has considered the matter and may sponsor legislation this year to accelerate bridge replacement. Gov. Warren P. Knowles also has expressed concern about such construction needs and has asked for proposals to meet them.

Out-Running Construction
The commission head told legislators that Wisconsin traffic growth is out-running the highway budget expansion, in spite of the new one penny motor fuel tax levied in 1966. He estimated the increase in traffic today at 1,500,000 vehicle miles daily, and said there is no stabilization in sight.

The commission chief said bridge requirements on the rural state highway system will be accommodated in the annual state trunk highway improvement budgeting, but that a more difficult problem is confronted in the bridge needs on local roads and streets, and especially some of those within the major cities. Mostly they are beyond the financing capacity of the localities, and under present arrangements the state

Police Investigate Theft of Auto Parts

KAUKAUNA — Police are investigating the theft of spark plug wires from a car owned by Victor Berndt, 1134 High St., which took place sometime Wednesday night while his car was parked in a parking lot at Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co.

4 Injured In Accident

Car, Truck Collide On State 114-U. S. 10 East of Waverly
CHILTON — Four persons were injured Saturday afternoon when the car in which they were riding and a truck collided 1 1/4 miles east of Waverly on U.S. 10 and State 114.

Mrs. Ronald Gibson, 29, 927 Sleepy Hollow Lane, Menasha, driver of the car received bruises; Mrs. Dale Kerkhoff, 18, 350 Racine St., Menasha, arm lacerations; Ronald Gilson Jr., four-months, bump on the head, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Pilgrim, 49, 927 Sleepy Hollow, Menasha, a fractured spine. All were passengers in the Gilson auto. All of the injured were taken to Theda Clark Hospital, Neenah.

Byron Kemp, 34, route 2, Menasha, driver of the truck, was not injured.

The Gilson auto was traveling east on U.S. 10-State 114 and began to pass the Kemp truck when Kemp made a left turn in front of the Gilson vehicle, police said. Gilson's auto hit the truck in the left front fender, skidded out of control, went through a ditch and fence and hit a car in the parking lot. The parked car, owned by Wallace C. Belling, 1421 E. Taft St.,

Menasha, Brillion Drivers Fined, Night Speeding

CHILTON — A rural Menasha girl driving a car clocked at 100 miles per hour at night was fined $100 and costs Monday in Calumet County Court by Judge D. H. Sebera after she was found guilty of speeding.

In addition to the fine, the court revoked Donna Sprangers' right to drive for 60 days. Miss Sprangers, 19, route 1, was arrested March 24 in the Town of Harrison.

Fined $120 and costs with a 30-day license revocation for speeding was Robert L. Wickersheim, 22, 202 Center St., Brillion.

Wickersheim was arrested for driving 90 m.p.h. at night in the Town of Woodville on U.S. 10 and Calumet County Trunk D.

Harrison Has Use of Dump Contract Approved For Lehrer Site Near Kaukauna

SHERWOOD — Rubbish dumping for Town of Harrison residents at the James Lehrer dump, route 3, Kaukauna, is again permitted, according to an agreement reached this week between Lehrer and town officials.

Dumping will be permitted on the first and third Friday and Saturday of each month. Friday hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon.

On Feb. 26, Lehrer had ordered the town to stop dumping by April 1 citing increased costs and added volume.

Harrison officials attempted to exchange fire protection for dumping privileges with its neighboring Town of Woodville. Woodville pays Harrison $800 a year for fire protection.

Though the proposed arrangement met with the approval of electors of both towns attending the annual meetings, final decision was left to the Town of Woodville board. After deciding that Harrison's use of the facilities would mean hiring someone to tend the area and general disapproval of the ar-

About $40 was taken from the cash register and vending machines at Bob and Cliff's Garage, while the burglars netted about $75 from John's Cigco Station.

Outagamie County sheriff's investigators were called to Shiocton about 8 a.m. today. Their investigation was continuing late this morning.

Leaders Travel to Madison to Urge Moving Campus to Larsen Farms

MADISON — Three-fourths of the Outagamie County Board and interested citizens appeared today supporting a bill which would change the site of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay from the Shorewood Golf Course site to the Larsen Farms location.

About 35 members of the 47-member board registered with the Assembly Education committee in support of a bill authored by Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna, which would move the new campus from the northeast side to the southwest portion of Green Bay.

They were led by Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, who was accompanied by Rogers, Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, Gerhard Willecke, Gordon Bubolz, John Torinus and Eugene A. Gassere, Kaukauna. Opponents of the legislation

Al C. Fischer Resigns From County Board

Airport Chairman Cites Business as Reason for Leaving

Appleton Supv. Al C. Fischer unexpectedly announced Tuesday afternoon that he is resigning from the Outagamie County Board.

Fischer had served as a county supervisor since 1956. He represented supervisory District 16, which roughly corresponds to Appleton's 15th Ward.

Fischer's unexpected announcement came just before the board concluded its day's activities.

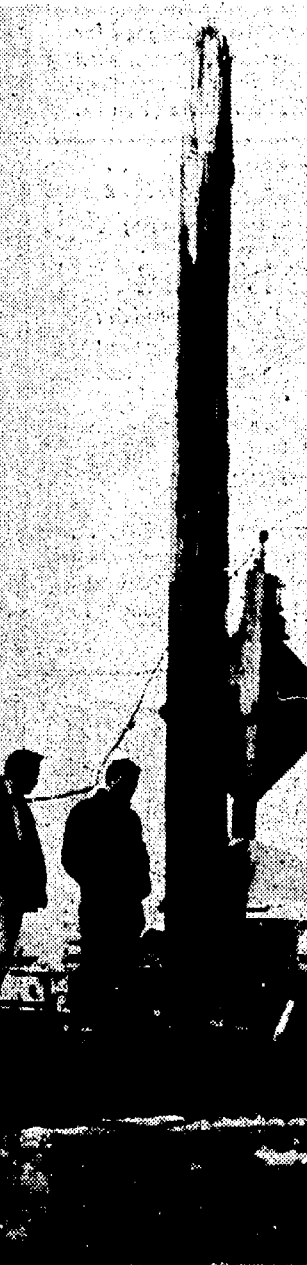

He gave "mounting business pressures" as the reason for his resignation.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler said Fischer's decision was "a complete surprise" and that he will be unable to appoint a successor to fill Fischer's unexpired term until Thursday when the board reconvenes.

Fischer had served on the airport committee for several years, and had been its chairman since last year.

Fischer operates the Auto-Mat Car Wash on E. Wisconsin Avenue.

New Members on Key Committees

Reorganization Affects County Highway, Executive Panels

New members were elected to the Outagamie County Board's executive and highway committees during Tuesday afternoon's reorganization session.

Supv. Stanley Perkins, Menasha, was unanimously chosen to represent the agriculture and conservation committee on the board's 11-man executive committee.

Perkins replaced Supv. George Kroes, Town of Vandenberg.

Menasha Man's Estate Set at $127,958

OSHKOSH — An inventory filed in Winnebago County Probate Court today values the estate of Louis H. Hafemeister, formerly of 409 Cleveland St., Menasha, at $127,958.

Hafemeister died April 12, 1966.

Hafemeister owned a one-tenth interest in Hafemeister Machine Co., Menasha, valued at $40,578. The partnership was left to the son.

Hafemeister's home was valued at $16,800. The remainder of the estate was in cash, stocks and bonds and insurance.

The only incumbent highway committee member who was not re-elected was Kaukauna Supv. Matt Verfurth. Verfurth had served on the highway committee since November of 1950.

Vote for Five

Highway committee members are chosen when each supervisor votes for five candidates out of the slate. The outcome of the vote was Supv. Ervin Conradt, Town of Bovina, 36 votes; Supv. L. A. Grunwaldt, Village of Black Creek, 38; Kroes, 35; Supv. P. J. Heenan, Appleton, 32; Supv. Dan Williams, Combined Locks, 30, and Verfurth, 28.

Chosen to the executive committee by board vote in addition to Perkins, were Appleton Supvs. John Dietz, George Greisch and Patrick Mares, Supv. Emmett Root, rural Hortonville; Chris Roepcke, rural Seymour; Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, and Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan.

Dietz defeated Kimberly Supv. Robert Weyenberg for the airport committee's seat on the executive committee by a 26 to 18 vote.

Public Welfare

For the Board of Public Welfare's seat, Root had 26 votes to 18 for Supv. Norman Austin, Town of Oneida.

Plan Commission Member Undecided

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton aldermen and the democratic election process ground to a complete halt after five grueling hours Tuesday night.

After 88 rounds of written ballots, the newly-organized council conceded failure in trying to elect a member to the city plan commission.

State-of-the-City Address

Mayor Points With Pride To Appleton's Progress

Mayor George Buckley — pointing with pride to the first year of his administration — said Tuesday night that during the past 12 months Appleton made progress while maintaining "sanity in spending."

In his state-of-the-city address at the city council's annual reorganizational meeting, Buckley reviewed the past year, looked to the future, and predicted the College Avenue reconstruction project will be completed by Nov. 1, or earlier.

Salary Boost

"I am advised by the director of public works that College Avenue work is right on schedule..." Buckley declared as he handed out verbal bouquets to other city officials and the council for its "hard work and cooperation."

As Buckley began the second year of his two-year term, he automatically received a $1,000 boost in salary, making it $15,000 a year. The council approved the increase two years ago before he became mayor.

(However, with the latest hike, the mayor is not the top paid public employee. Supt. of Schools William Spears was recently granted a $1,500 raise which will boost his annual pay to $18,500 by mid-summer, plus a car allowance; William Knuth, public schools business manager was raised to $13,350; City Atty. David Geenen continues to get $13,000; and Public Works Director Frank Keuler receives $12,600 annually.)

Buckley noted the past year witnessed the opening of the new municipal service building, resurfacing of five miles of streets, updated changes in traffic controls, installation of 10,000 feet of curb and gutter, 18,000 feet of concrete streets, 40,000 feet of storm sewers, 38,000 feet of sidewalk, 7,000 feet of asphalt street surfacing and over 9,000 feet of sanitary sewers.

Annexation Proponent

A strong proponent of annexation, Buckley said the city annexed over 70 acres from the Town of Grand Chute and Town of Harrison.

"Our annexation study is almost completed and I hope that we will be able to step up these annexations at a much faster pace than we have used in the past," Buckley asserted.

While not alluding to the fact in his address, Buckley is expected to announce a major annexation within the coming months which will add considerably to Appleton's tax base.

"During the past year the City of Appleton has realized considerable progress and, at the same time, this progress has not been to such an extreme that we have been unable to effect a degree of economy," Buckley said.

Project Completions

He explained the current year will see the completion of the "New College Avenue," Soldiers Square Parking structure, Appleton High School-East and Highlands Elementary school.

"I have enjoyed this past year working with such outstanding elected public officials as Elden Broehm, Ray Feuerstein, John Pierre and David Geenen," Buckley said. "The people of Appleton can be proud to have men like

Boy Scout District Plans Annual Event

The Tri-City District of the Valley Council-Boy Scouts of America, scheduled the 12th annual recognition banquet for April 27 at Sabre Lanes. Featured speaker will be Cmdr. Thomas J. Keane, U.S. Naval Reserves (Ret.). George Banta III, Menasha, will be master of ceremonies.

Keane is one of the pioneers of the Boy Scout organization. He was an associate and adviser to the late Dr. James E. West, first chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

Keane was the first national director of senior scouting. As director he led the development and promotion of Sea Scout and Exploring programs. He also organized civic support for the Boy Scout movement.

The retired commander served in the U. S. Navy during both World Wars. In 1956, for his cooperation in developing the Boy Scout movement in Japan, Keane received one of the highest decorations given by the Japanese organization, the Taka-Sho (Hawk Award).

Keane's scouting career ended in 1962 when he received the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America's highest award, the Silver Buffalo.

The Tri-City District banquet is a tribute to the 1,200 adult volunteers in Appleton, Neenah, and Menasha who are leading more than 3,300 boys in 33 scouting units.

Matches Thrown by Youths Blamed For Awning Fire

Youths who were walking along College Avenue throwing lighted matches were believed to have been responsible for fire that broke out about 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in an awning at Breitenebach's Shoe Store, 128 E. College Ave.

Appleton firemen, who responded to the call with two units, said damage was minor. An Appleton police patrolman said he had taken matches away from the boys shortly before the fire was discovered.

Firemen were called to the William Schildt home, 318 W. Packard St., about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. The alarm came in as a house fire, but firemen found that an overheated smoke pipe, from a wood burning kitchen stove, was filling the house with smoke. Firemen used a smoke ejector to clear the building.

Boy Leaves Home; Ends Journey in Phone Booth

A 13-year-old Appleton boy ran away from home Tuesday, but his journey ended at a telephone booth where he was found asleep.

The boy, who lives on S. Mason Street, left home about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday after an argument with his father who later told police he "grounded" his son for coming home late.

The boy said he walked to a shopping center on W. College Avenue, where he stayed until about 9:30 p.m. He then began walking toward Appleton, but made it only as far as the telephone booth at College Avenue and Mason Street.

A police patrolman found the boy sleeping in the booth about 1:35 a.m. Police, who returned the boy to his parents, following a scolding at the police station, said he left home with an extra pair of trousers, but had no money.

Permits Issued for Southside Apartments

Building permits have been issued for two new four-family apartment buildings on Appleton's southside at an estimated $65,000 for general construction work.

Joseph Pennings is erecting a $30,000 building at 2301 Peters Street, and Thomas Vandenberg, a $35,000 apartment structure at 110 S. Buchanan St.

Recommends Support of New Bill 19A

Approval to form vocational area District 12 on school district lines was given Tuesday in Milwaukee by the State Vocational Board, bringing one step nearer the formation of the board for a vocational institute.

Similar action, if taken by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHHE) when it meets May 11 at Madison, can mean that a section panel can be chosen from the presidents of the 25 school districts included in District 12, and the institute board formed without further delay.

Names Bill

When the state board passed its motion to form District 12 on school district lines, it strongly recommended that the presidents of the 25 boards of education involved, and the county board chairmen of the four counties which make up District 12, move together to support Bill 19-A when it comes up for legislative action during the present session.

Bill 19-A, which is reportedly being drafted in its final form in the legislature's educational committee this week, changes Chapter 292 Laws of Wisconsin, relating to the establishment of area vocational-technical school districts by July 1, 1970.

Principally 19-A provides for moving the July 1, 1970 date for operation of a vocational school district to July 1, 1968, and provides for the selection panel to be made up of four county board chairmen, four school board presidents and one person appointed by the State Vocational Board.

If the CCHHE approves formation of District 12 on school district lines, the presidents of the boards in the 25 school districts can name the area

Fox Planners Set Meeting for Reorganization

Potential Members To Hear Plans for New Commission

Twelve potential members of the proposed Fox Valley Council of Governments have been asked to attend a special meeting of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission executive committee Tuesday.

Mayors, village presidents and town chairmen from each of the commission's member municipalities were invited to the meeting by Eugene E. Franchett, executive director. The meeting was called to take action on the revision which could reorganize the commission into the Council of Governments.

Approval of the revised Articles of Agreement by the executive committee would be the final step before the matter receives the attention of the entire commission at the annual meeting April 27.

The organizational change would place leadership solely in the hands of elected officials. The chief executive and one other elected officer of each municipality would sit on the council's highest group, the general assembly.

Articles of Agreement for the change have been recommended ending up divided and without a successor to Ald. Orville Strutz (17th), it failed to set a record.

Appleton Council Voting Fails in Long Session

Lawmakers Tried However, it wasn't that the parttime city lawmakers didn't try.

In the late 1930's when the council still elected the building inspector, it took more than 140 ballots before a selection was made.

"City Fathers" became disgusted with the deadlock — and themselves — shortly after midnight and recessed until 7 p.m. today when voting will be resumed.

ing tonight — if one may inject an optimistic note — aldermen will conduct their regular business, followed by a special committee of the whole session to untangle the Soldiers Square Parking ramp dilemma.

Strutz, who served the past year on the plan commission, did not seek the post again, taking the position it should be alternated among members of the council "to give them valuable experience."

As voting began shortly after 8:30 p.m., Aids. Al Stoegbauer (4th) and John Steldi (10th) were the top contenders, with at least four others receiving scattered votes.

Full Agenda "I've never seen anything like it before," was the lament of City Clerk Elden Broehm this morning as he prepared to get the agenda ready for tonight's session.

MacDonald President Of Appleton Council

Third Term Alderman Outpolls Ald. Tews; Seeks to Restore Camaraderie of Past

Ald. John MacDonald (7th), 1615 Orchard Drive, began his third year on the Appleton Common Council Tuesday night by being elected its president. He succeeds Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), a 12-year alderman who declined another year. The president presides over the council in the absence of the mayor and conducts committee of the whole meetings.

MacDonald outpolls Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th), veteran council member and chairman of its powerful finance committee, 12-7. Tews held the presidency once before.

The voting was by secret ballot with no nominations from the floor.

MacDonald thanked the council for its support and said he would. "Try to restore the camaraderie which prevailed in the past."

Mayor George Buckley made appointments to standing committees and other boards and agencies, dropping MacDonald from the membership on the commerce and industrial development committee, reportedly at MacDonald's request.

During the past year, MacDonald chaired the personnel committee, which has been dissolved, and also served on the finance committee.

Committee Posts

Ald. Tews, finance; Ald. Pointer, street-sanitation; and Ald. John Ayers (12th), public safety, retained committee chairmanships for another year.

Ald. Richard Huisman (1st) was appointed welfare - ordinance committee chairman, replacing Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th).

There were several shifts in committee personnel as result of the mayor's appointments:

Finance: Alds. Tews, James Bethke (9th), R. P. Groh (8th).

Alphonse Recker, Ex-Businessman In Appleton, Dies

Alphonse H. Recker, 61, 1325 N. Clark St., a former Appleton businessman, died early this morning after becoming ill at his home Tuesday night.

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad was called to the home about 10:50 p.m. Tuesday when it was reported Recker had difficulty breathing. He was given oxygen and was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital where he died several hours later.

Recker, who lived in Appleton since 1926, at one time operated the Appleton Yacht Club and Recker's Bar, on E. College Avenue. He was a life-long member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Wichmann Funeral Home. Visitation at the funeral home will be after 3 p.m. Thursday.

Courthouse Annex In Oshkosh OK'd 39-3

OSHKOSH — With surprising little opposition, the Winnebago County Board Tuesday voted 39-3 to go-ahead with plans to construct a courthouse annex for the welfare department at an estimated cost of $490,830.

Method of financing construction, however, was left open pending an attorney general's ruling. A resolution on the financing will be brought in at the May meeting of the board. In the meantime, final specifications and plans will be drawn and bids taken, but not awarded.

The question involved is whether city property taxes would apply to the building if it was constructed by private financing and then leased back to the county.

If property taxes do apply, it would be cheaper for the county to finance the project itself. However, if the building would be tax-exempt under private financing, a lease-back arrangement would then be cheaper because of additional state aids available.

The $490,830 figure includes the $24,000 already spent on survey and architectural work and also includes the demolition of the existing Gear-Murray annex building.

The only opposition was voiced by Supervisors Robert Wertsch, Oshkosh, and Gordon (Al) Stoegbauer (4th) and John Steidl (18th).

Six Persons Injured in 3 City Mishaps

Young Bicyclist Hurt as He Strikes Automobile Door

Six persons, including a young bicyclist, were injured in three Appleton accidents Tuesday.

Gary C. Burgess, 12, 2027 N. Oneida St., suffered a cut on his jaw when his bicycle ran into a car door about 3:50 p.m. Tuesday in the 300 block of W. Marquette St.

Appleton police said the boy was riding west on Marquette when he ran into the door that was being opened on a parked car owned by James E. Eckstein, 31, 5015 N. Oneida St..

Four persons were injured, none believed seriously, in a two-car accident about 5:15 p.m. at State and Franklin Streets. Julia T. Han, 1812 W. Highland Ave., driver of one car, was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by ambulance for treatment of knee injuries, while her passenger, Juliana Cheng, same address, was taken to the hospital for treatment of a cut tongue.

Not Hospitalized

G. W. Kuehnell, 44, 1905 S. Bouten St., driver of the second car, suffered knee bruises, while his wife had a head cut. They were not hospitalized.

Police said the Han car was westbound on Franklin and the Kuehnell car was eastbound when the accident occurred.

Sylvia Arndt, 313 W. Winnebago St., complained of a stiff neck and suffered minor bruises when her car and one driven by Mildred Wergin, 1910 N. Harrison St., collided at Alvin and Parkway Streets about 5:15 p.m.

Police said the Wergin car was westbound on Parkway and the Arndt car was traveling south on Alvin. The collision occurred in the intersection.

Truck-Car Crash

George Karras, 42, 1815 N. Racine St., suffered a hip bruise and cut right hand, and Timothy Guilfoyle, 6, suffered a bump on the head in a two car accident Monday afternoon, according to a report filed by Appleton police today.

The boy was in a panel truck driven by his father, Thomas L. Guilfoyle, 33, 927 Wilson St., Kaukauna. Police said Guilfoyle, 33, who was southbound on Meade Street, pulled away from a stop sign into the path of the Karras car which was eastbound on Atlantic Street.

LeVee Okayed as Library Architect

MENASHA — One of the common council's final acts before it closed the books on its old term Tuesday night and started anew, was to grant permission to hire an architect for a new library and promise to pay his initial fee.

The council gave Mayor Kenneth Holmes and City Clerk Harry Kind authority to hire Raymond N. LeVee & Associates, Inc., Appleton, the firm recommended earlier by joint action of three official city groups.

Neenah Councilmen Give Initial Okay To Lakeview Addition

NEENAH — The council and town chairman gave approval to the initial steps in constructing an addition to the Lakeview School Tuesday evening.

With only Supv. Robert Wisner, Town of Menasha, objecting, the group okayed $10,000 to cover architectural fees in the expansion project, which is expected to add at least three rooms to the building.

The addition is expected to be completed by September, 1968.

The city will forward the $10,000 and will be reimbursed from the school district when bonds for the project are sold.

Oshkosh Edges Neenah

OSHKOSH — Pitching overshadowed the hitting as Oshkosh High School edged Neenah, 1-0, in the latter's opener here Tuesday afternoon.

Plan Committee to Study County Government Changes

OSHKOSH — A special study committee will be appointed by County Board Chairman Joseph Drexler to investigate the feasibility of centralizing administrative functions of the county. The vote on the proposal of Supv. Hibbard Engler, Oshkosh, was 20-12. However, several supervisors indicated that while they favored a study this did not necessarily mean they would favor any changes in the county government.

Engler said that under the present system progress is often stymied because of a lack of coordination. He said he was not advocating one particular form of centralization but was only asking for a special committee to study the various possibilities. Under state statute, counties can employ a county administrator whose duties and powers would be determined by the county board. Outagamie County employs an executive secretary to the board. Engler said Brown County is also considering a county administrator.

Park Officials Liable for Suits at State Fair

Attorney General Says State Immune To Private Action

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Officials in charge of the state fair park in West Allis could be sued by individuals injured in case of a fire, explosion or building collapse on the grounds, Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette has stated. But the state itself would remain immune from legal action in such a case due to its sovereign nature, the state's legal officer has decided. In an informal opinion issued to Vernon G. Wendland of the state exposition department, the attorney general stated that public officers who use their best personal and business judgement in carrying out their duties have little danger from personal liability suits brought by individuals alleging damages because of their official acts. But such actions can be brought, he warned, if the state officials know of a danger resulting from their action or inaction — such as the inherently dangerous nature of a building in a bad state of repair — and allow the actions to continue. If users of such a building, he noted, are exposed to an unreasonable risk due to the conditions present, board members can be held personally responsible for their actions. State law does not allow them to escape personal responsibility by claiming the action was not a personal one, but a joint act of the board, he noted. In such a case of an individual claiming that he acted in good faith as a member of a board which allowed such conditions to exist, LaFollette said, leaves open the question of whether a court would agree and therefore allow the state to pay any damages awarded. Even if a board such as administrators the exposition department demands a clause in its contracts to lessors of the property it may not be exempt from a share of responsibility for such damages if the department knows of the dangerous condition when it leases the property to unknowing persons, LaFollette said. Perfect Cribbage Hand Dick Guertis came up with a perfect cribbage hand recently at Haupt's Bar. He held the jack of clubs and three fives, while the five of clubs was cut to him. Nonetheless, he lost the game to Frank DeJong.

$325 Damage Set in Kimberly Accident
KIMBERLY — Damage was estimated at $325, but no one was injured in a 2-car accident at S. Willow and E. First Streets about 9:15 a.m. Tuesday. John Walbrich, 24, 310 Elm St., New London, was traveling west on First and Edmund Cops, 60, 509 E. Kimberly Ave., Kimberly, was traveling south on Willow when the vehicles collided in the intersection. County police investigated the accident as local police were out of the community at the time.

Board Okays School Lines For District 12

Board. This could happen by July 1, 1967, in keeping with the time-table set up by the school districts and the five existing vocational schools. If the institute board is not formed by July 1, 1967, according to existing law, it will be deferred to July 1, 1968.

When the institute board of seven persons, including two employers, two employees who are associated with a labor organization, and two members-at-large and one superintendent of schools, is formed, the plans for the institute can move ahead without further delay.

It will be possible for this board to levy the 1.5 mill tax in the four-county area of District 12, select a site, hire an architect, finalize the program of instruction, and hire a director and staff. School administrators, both vocational and public, have gone on record that there is an "urgency" in getting District 12's area vocational program under way.

There are other "ifs". Should the OCHE not approve District 12 on school district lines, it would be the option of the State Vocational Board to return to its action of last November when the district was approved by it on county lines, including Calumet, Outagamie, Waupaca and Winnebago.

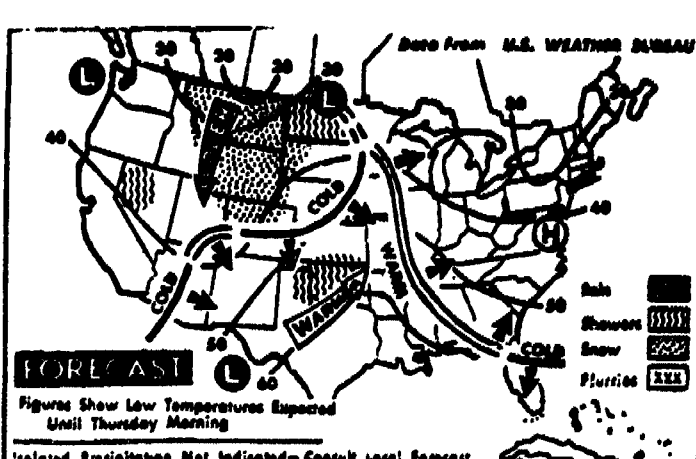

Feeling Optimistic

"It is the feeling that the OCHE will approve District 12 on school district lines, in lieu of the attorney general's ruling last week that a county board could act for a portion of a county if that small portion was taken out for another school district," Clarence Greiber, director of the State Vocational Board, Madison, said today.

If 19-A is not passed, and OCHE approves formation of District 12 on school district lines, the school boards can move ahead to form the area board under the provisions of 292 Wisconsin Law. In this case the nine-member selection committee for the board would be made up entirely of school board presidents.

If 19-A is passed before District 12 acts to form the institute board, the selection panel would be made up of the four county board chairmen, four school board members and one member appointed by the State Vocational Board.

The school districts which make up vocational District 12 by their petitions to the state board are: Appleton, Bear for approval from the commission's constitution and by-laws committee. One of the purposes for reorganizing the commission, officials have said, is a 20 per cent federal aid bonus which is available for projects already receiving federal grants.

Greater Involvement

The federal government stipulates, however, that greater involvement of elected officials in planning is necessary for the aid bonuses.

Invited to attend the executive committee meeting are mayors George L. Buckley, Appleton; Gilbert J. Anderson, Kaukauna; Kenneth Holmes, Menasha, and Carl E. Loehning, Neenah; village presidents Dan Williams, Combined Locks; Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly, and Ed Spierings, Little Chute; and town chairmen Joseph DeBruin, Buchanan; Thomas A. Lawrence, WSU-O On Nelson's Tour Agenda

Lawrence and Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh are included in a planned state-wide tour of Wisconsin campuses in May by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and state Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette to discuss "issues of the future," according to an announcement from Nelson to the Associated Press today.

In addition to speaking at each of the campuses, Nelson and La Follette will answer questions and meet the students socially at a coffee hour.

The tour, which will start May 2 at the UW extension in Waukegan, will also include stops at the state universities in Whitewater, Stevens Point, Eau Claire, Stout, River Falls and Milwaukee, in addition to Alverno College and Marquette University.

NLRB Rules K-C Unit Eligible for Election

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) regional office at Milwaukee has declared 18 maintenance employees at the main Kimberly-Clark Corp. office at Neenah an appropriate work unit.

Its decision is in response to a petition by the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, AFL-CIO, to conduct a representation election.

The NLRB said an election will be held but did not set the date.

Kennedy Medals, Vatican Stamps in Sunday Displays

An array of famous coin collections and educational exhibits to highlight the 11th annual Fox Valley Coin Club's jamboree Sunday at Reetz Super Club.

The many famous displays are not only beautiful, but portray a great historical background, he said. He urged all teachers to plan a tour with their pupils Sunday.

Some of the outstanding collections expected are J. F. Kennedy medals and coins, papal medals, U. S. paper money types, commemorative medals, foreign crown, U.S. proof sets, Vatican City coins and stamps, various foreign collections, and

Internal Revenue Safe Too Tough to Crack

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The income tax people are tough nuts to crack — and so are their safes.

Somebody made an unsuccessful try Monday and all he — or they — accomplished was to twist the safe's dial into a cock-eyed position.

Anyway, the money was in the other safe, Internal Revenue Service officials told Miami police who investigated.

Group Backs Bill Changing Campus Site

13 to 16 miles farther to the Shorewood site than to the Larsen farm. The two new bridges, one north of Green Bay and one south, have been proposed to ease the travel burdens on prospective Appleton students.

Esler alleged that even east side Green Bay residents cannot understand, but are afraid to speak out for fear of losing the campus. The great attendance of board members, losing a day's work, indicates great citizen interest in the Rogers' bill, Esler said.

Rogers claimed his bill is a "corrective measure" and is not provincially oriented.

"I maintain a mistake has been made. The present site, like the summit of a mountain, is very beautiful but difficult to reach," Rogers said.

He repeated long-sounded claims that the site criteria had been changed just prior to the selection by excluding Neenah and Menasha from the proposed service area of the new campus.

The northeast Wisconsin UW branch is designed to decelerate growth at WSU-Oshkosh, Rogers pointed out, and that cannot be achieved by ignoring the Twin Cities, he said.

Proponents of the bill to change the site met probing questions from Assemblyman Raymond H. Eiden, R-Marshfield, who repeatedly asked why Rogers' bill is based on a commuter college concept of the new school while such terms are avoided in the act creating the new campus.

Large answered by claiming that a third and fourth year campus must be by nature a commuter school.

Large termed the selection of the Shorewood site, alleging it was done in secrecy, "a travesty of justice."

"This state belongs to everybody, not to just three or four people who met behind closed doors," he said.

He referred to the site selection committee which was comprised of the state architect, state engineer, the president of the University of Wisconsin and then Assemblyman Glen Pommerening.

Small recited statistics to the committee which, he said, show that the Shorewood site is actually closer to the student center of north-eastern Wisconsin.

In a 45-mile radius of the service area of the new campus, Shorewood site are 98.14 per cent of all high school students

PSC Transfers Truck Service Authority To Seymour Company

MADISON — Transfer of the truck operating authority of Miss Irma Tenner doing business as On-Time Truck Service of Oshkosh, to Seymour Transfer Lines, Inc., of Seymour, has been approved by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

The authority covers the transportation of property between Oshkosh and State 116 and Hwy. 116 between State 110 and Winneconne.

The commission has also extended the authority of the Seymour firm for the transportation of freight between Winneconne and all points presently served by the company.

in the school's service area, according to Small.

The Larsen Farm site would serve 97.2 per cent of the students when figured on the same basis, he said. The average distance for students to travel to the Larsen Farms site is 26.9 miles compared to 29.0 miles to the Shorewood, site, Small said.

"A two-mile difference when you consider all the students and all of the traveling distance," Small told the committee.

The school must serve all of northeastern Wisconsin, not just the Appleton area, he reminded them.

these representing them in public office."

Buckley stressed the co-operation theme and said it existed between all city offices, declaring, "That it should be since we are all working toward one common goal — for the good of the people of Appleton." He urged continued teamwork between his office, others and the council during the coming legislative year.

The mayor said the past year's council was "a hard working one with many long hours spent on city business."

"I do know that the efforts of all of us were sincere and in our best judgement," Buckley said.

He welcomed four new members "on board" and said there was much hard work ahead and many problems to be solved.

Survey of Disposal Systems Initiated

Expect Report Soon From Firm Conducting Fox Cities Study

Two representatives of Leach Co., Oshkosh, affiliates Tuesday began a study of solid waste disposal systems for 12 member municipalities of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission. Conducting the study will be L. C. Weedman, district representative for Bruce Municipal Equipment Co., distributors in Wisconsin for the Leach Co., and Michael A. Miller, an engineer with Elgin Leach Corp., Chicago. They will work with Eugene E. Franchetti, executive director of the commission, and Arno W. Haering, assistant director.

The commission's executive committee approved a resolution in March authorizing the survey after the firm offered to conduct the study free of charge.

Combined Locks Warehousing, Inc. Fred T. Kampe, Limekiln Drive, Neenah, is listed as the registered agent of the new corporation and as an incorporator. Offices will be at 200 Cecil St., Neenah.

Miller said today most of the information gathering will be completed this week and a preliminary report will be completed next month. Weedman and Miller spent Tuesday viewing existing disposal systems in the Fox Cities' area.

The men will gather data concerning the quantity, type and means used to transport solid wastes and make recommendations.

Included in the recommendations, Franchetti said, will be cost estimates related to a centralized collection system. The Leach Co. system makes use of trucks collecting the wastes and compacting them. The waste is then transported to a central collection site where a hopper may be used for additional compaction.

The material is then loaded into trailers for hauling to a final disposal plant. The study follows a commission proposal of last year to conduct a complete survey of waste disposal problems in the 12 communities. The proposed for the right to represent the public property and insurance committee.

Two ballots were needed to determine the courts, justice and enforcement committee's study would have cost approximately $18,000. It was tabled when officials of the City of Appleton chose not to participate. Appleton's share of the study would have been $7,144.

When the executive committee approved the Leach Co. offer in March, Appleton's director of public works said it would include "primarily the collection phase of waste disposal and not go much beyond that point."

Feelings expressed at that time indicated the current study might add a more thorough intra-municipality study at a later date.

The commission member communities include cities of Appleton, Kaukauna, Menasha and Neenah; towns of Buchanan, Grand Chute, Harrison, Menasha and Neenah; and villages of Kimberly, Little Chute and Combined Locks.

representative to the executive committee.

On the first ballot Appleton Supv. John Schreiter had 21 votes, to 18 for Gretsch and five for Supv. Charles Wassow, also of Appleton. Another vote was necessary because no one had a majority of the total vote. Gretsch edged Schreiter, 23 to 22, on the second ballot.

The 11-man executive committee is filled out with the membership of the county board chairman and vice-chairman (Sylvester Ealer, Appleton, and Marvin Babbitt, Seymour) plus a man elected by members of the highway committee.

The remaining 30 county board members are appointed to seats on the eight standing committees by a special committee-on-committees.

Board members elected to serve on the committee on committees with Ealer were Schreiter, 30 votes; Kaukauna Supv. Merritt Kavanaugh, 29 votes; Appleton Supv. Arthur Hoolihan, 26 votes, and Little Chute Supv. Edward Spierings, 25 votes.

Defeated candidates for the committee on committees were Fredericks and Appleton Supv. Herbert Heible, 21 votes each, and Appleton Supv. Clarence Miller, 17 votes.

The committee on Committee's appointments will be announced at Thursday's board session.

Attorney Rules Appleton Must Accept Low Bids

The city is obligated, under state law, to accept the low bid for public works projects unless the bidder is deemed incompetent to do the work, City Atty. David Geenen said Tuesday.

The board had considered awarding a contract to a local firm which had bid higher than one from near Wausau.

A local firm representative said he thought the city should award him the contract because there was "only $900 difference" in the bids. He said the city should grant local firms contracts even though they are not low, when bidding is close.

Geenen said the law was specific and was "for the protection of the people not the contractors."

The board recommended awarding contracts to all low bidders.

The faculty chose the students on the basis of their scholastic and extra-curricular records. Honored were Jill Bahcall, Mary Lisa Berryman, Marsha Brewer, Jeffrey Bruch, Renate Bruesewitz, Jane Casselman, Nadine Cohodas, Donald Dafeo, Betsy Freschl, John Haugner, Carl Iddings, Barbara Klein-schmidt, James Kloes, James Koch, Robert Kohl, Lynn Kolbe, John Lhost, Anne Lingelbach, Diane Luecke, Bill Lundt, Carla Melchert, Mary Murray, Susan Olmsted, Mary Otto, Peter Otto, Julia Pierson, David Radloff, Jenny Rathbun, Nan Retson, Robert Richards, William Roelofs, David Romensko, John Schmieding, Ellen Schumaker, Kathi Selle, Sally Thor-

Expensive Medicine Can be Cheapest Cure

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have had itching in my ears from an accumulation of dandruff-like material. A doctor told me to syringe it out with peroxide and alcohol. When that didn't work, such thoughts. The disease is not transmitted from person to person so there can be no such thing as a carrier. Your case is extremely unusual, but it is, as your doctor says, coincidence.

Dear Dr. Molner: This is what my doctor is treating me for: "Stricture of urethra." Please explain what it is, what to do for it, and the cure. — V.A.

The urethra is part of the urinary system, the tube running downward from the urinary bladder.

A stricture is a narrowing of this tube at some point. Causes vary. One common one is infection, or sometimes the aftermath of infection, with consequent scar tissue interfering with free flow. Some sort of growth, pressure on the urethra, twisting or distortion of it or injury could also produce a stricture.

Therefore treatment will not be the same in all cases. Drugs to combat infection might be the essential care in one case. In another, some surgical correction might be called for. In still other cases stretching or dilation is the best answer. Again depending on the type of case, periodic dilation may be necessary, repeated whenever the urethra again becomes constricted.

Dear Dr. Molner: At present I am fairly happy in my job but am 45 years old and if I decided to quit it would be difficult to find another job. I have been wondering about plastic surgery to take a few years off my looks and would like to know the cost. — M.H.

In my opinion, the most valid purpose of this type of surgery is to correct premature signs of aging, not to conceal normal results of age. Anyway, particularly as concerns a job, your employer is pretty likely to know or find out your real age anyway.

Cost? Some hundreds of dollars, varying in accordance with how much work had to be done. Only satisfactory way to ascertain the cost is to ask for an estimate from the surgeon.

he gave me a prescription to have filled at the drug store. I was to put three drops in each ear several times a day, and it was helpful, but there was so little in the prescription bottle and it is so expensive that I quit using it. The itching soon returned. Please send me any recommendations to treat this condition. — W.W.

Your doctor tried an inexpensive method first. It didn't work. Then he found a method that did work. But it cost more.

Your trouble sounds like a fungus infection or something similar. Characteristically these are stubborn. The symptoms often subside but return if you stop treatment too soon.

I would resume the treatment, even if you don't get much medicine in each bottle, and keep on long enough to cure the condition, not just slow it down temporarily. It will doubtless be the cheapest method in the long run.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to eat frost that gathers in a refrigerator? I have been eating it for some time. — B.J.

It's just moisture that has condensed. I can't see how it could harm you. But you don't tempt my palate particularly.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you think one could be a carrier of Hodgkins disease? Both my husbands passed away from that disease, one at 51 and the other at 64. My doctor tells me it was just coincidence. — Mrs. J.W.E.

Legal Bingo Proposal Again Faces Legislature

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The perennial proposal to legalize non-commercial bingo has reappeared in the legislature, somewhat later than usual.

The passage of more than three months of the legislative session without such a bill has brought some speculation that backers of the measure to permit bingo games under the sponsorship of non-profit groups had become discouraged by repeated defeats in earlier sessions.

The current proposal was offered by Assemblymen Kenneth Kunde, Sheboygan, and William Atkinson and Adrian Manders, Milwaukee County, all Democrats.

It is a plan for an amendment to the anti-lottery provision of the Wisconsin constitution of 1848, and would authorize bingo games under the supervision and licensing of the state government.

Such licenses would be restricted to games "operated by religious, political and fraternal organizations and bona fide veterans' organizations duly chartered under state and federal laws, and volunteer fire departments, for the benefit of such organizations."

Such an amendment would require approval of this legislature, and the 1969 legislature, as well as a popular vote of ratification, to delete the anti-lottery law that now makes bingo illegal in any public form.

MacDowell To Sing at Stockbridge

The Appleton MacDowell Male Chorus will sing at a benefit concert at the Stockbridge High School Sunday evening under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary.

In other out-of-town events the chorus recently sang at Iron Mountain, Mich., and at the Reedsville High School.

On April 29, MacDowell will travel to Fort William, Canada to participate in a "Big Sing," in commemoration of Canada's 100th anniversary. Other Mid-Continent choruses will be from Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Canada.

The chorus will give its annual spring concert at the Lawrence Memorial Chapel May 13. Tickets now are on sale.

The MacDowell concert season will end May 20 with a concert for the Appleton conference of state Business and Professional Women.

Shore Deposit May Require Landowner Bond

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A bonding requirement for those persons who get state permits to deposit materials or to place a structure upon the bed of navigable waters has been proposed in a bill introduced into the legislature by Assemblyman David Martin of Neenah.

The Public Service Commission now reviews such applications and issues permits, with the review of the state Conservation Commission.

A typical application will propose the deposit of a sand bed on a lake shore by a private cottage or resort owner. The state regulates such activity for the protection of fish and wildlife habitat. The Martin plan is to require a bond amounting to 30 per cent of the cost of the work, to assure compliance with the conditions of the state government permit.

Officers to Share Spotlight With Keynote Wirtz

Officials who will participate in the 46th annual Appleton area Chamber of Commerce meeting Thursday at the Conway Hotel, have been announced.

Sharing the spotlight with W. Willard Wirtz, secretary of labor, who will be the guest speaker for the meeting, entitled "Challenged of Change," will be John B. Torinus, chamber president, who will bring the president's message on that subject. Max G. Hensel, chairman of the forum committee, will serve as master of ceremonies and John A. Hennessy, treasurer and chairman of the budget and finance committee, will give the financial report.

Revision of bylaws will be explained by Patrick F. Coughlin, chairman of the revision committee, and nominations for the board of directors will be read by Oscar C. Boldt, chairman of the nominating committee.

Wirtz was appointed labor secretary in 1962. Before this, his career centered around teaching, a law practice and public service.

The Harvard Law School graduate taught law at the University of Iowa and was professor of law at Northwestern University before his appointment to the Labor Department.

Wirtz is a director of the

Consider Exceptions Individually

Ask Council to Waive Width Requirements

Appleton streets having less than 50-foot right of way should be considered on an individual basis to determine to roadway widths, the street and sanitation committee decided Monday.

The decision was made after a motion from Aldermen Walter Kalata, Second Ward, and John Ayers, 12th Ward, was referred to the committee April 5 by the council.

The motion asked that the city consider waiving the re-

American Red Cross and a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He also serves on a number of governmental committees and has received honorary Doctor of Law degrees from two universities and two colleges.

quirement for a 33-foot roadway on residential streets where less than 60 feet of right of way exists.

Force Disruptions

Committee members voted to adhere to the 33-foot requirement for those streets with right of way of 50 feet or more, but recommended that the narrower right of way streets be considered individually.

The resolution from Kalata and Ayers asked for waiver of the requirements "in view that many streets in the city could not meet these requirements without disrupting property lines, sidewalks, and so forth, and thus cannot have curb and gutter and cannot come under the resurfacing program."

The committee's recommendation will go to the council for consideration.

In other action, the committee:

— Authorized Public Works Director Frank Keuler to seek sloping easements for property in the Cherry Court Ravine on the city's south side. The easements would give the city the right to fill the ravine for installation of storm and sanitary sewers and eventual construction of a roadway from Cherry Court to Garden Court.

Eight property owners, four in the Town of Menasha and four in Appleton, will receive drawings and plans for the filling and will be asked for written responses. Garden Court presently is serviced with sewer facilities by the Town of Menasha.

— Approved a recommendation from Keuler for soil borings on College Avenue before the street is surfaced to determine if the filling around utilities installed underground meets compaction requirements.

— Rejected a motion to defer until next year resurfacing of W. Winnebago Street from Richmond Street west, Lorain Court, Douglas Street from College Avenue north, and Reeve Street.

— Recommended purchase for $100 of a large street clock presently located on the south side of College Avenue for possible use in a Soldiers Square mall.

Shafi Hossain New President Of Unitarians

Shafi Hossain was elected president of the Fox Valley Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship Sunday night at the organization's annual dinner meeting in the Appleton YMCA. Hossain succeeds Harold A. Swenson.

Elwood Dillingham was named vice president, Mrs. Neil Johanneen, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Boyce was re-elected treasurer. John Dreher was named chairman of the program committee and directors to a newly formed board are William Dunwiddie, Neenah, Mrs. Kyle Ward Jr. and Mrs. Allen West.

Speaker for the evening was the Rev. Robert Utke, Milwaukee, who discussed problems of the "inner city" of Milwaukee where his work is centered. His discussion touched on the need for better schools in the area as well as improved educational standards and practices, a better understanding of poverty itself, the desperate need for leadership among the families and young people, as well as a new look at governmental welfare.

"Those of us in inner city work tend to believe that welfare and the way it's being handled is just one way of keeping the people poor," the speaker declared as he described specific cases of indifference and negative handling by welfare personnel.

The Rev. Mr. Utke said he believed that a state law on housing is imperative right now to give these people the freedom to move, even though they may choose not to.

Meet State Requirements

Sewage Plant Bids at Kaukauna Are $664,111

KAUKAUNA — The council Tuesday night approved bids totaling $664,111 for construction of an addition and alterations to the sewage plant enabling the city to meet state requirements for secondary treatment of sewage.

Work on the plant is expected to get underway this month with completion in about one year.

Oudenhoven, Company, Inc., Kaukauna was awarded the general construction contract with a bid of $320,300; Mechanical work will be by Reek-Marold Co., Inc., Green Bay, $257,240; electric work by Hewitt Electric Co., Appleton, $22,500; Central Contracting Corp.,

A request from the Bank of Kaukauna for rezoning three lots in the 200 block of Wisconsin Avenue from Class B residential to central business district was referred to the planning commission. The bank is interested in building a drive-in facility.

No objections were raised to rezoning of five lots in the Thelen Estates plat form Class A to Class B residential as recommended by the planning commission. Numbers on 4 homes on Walter Avenue in the W. G. Rutten plat were changed to avoid confusion with similar numbers on another portion of the same street.

Aldermen approved hiring Jean Skalmusky as city stenographer at a salary of $325 per month effective May 1. Also approved was a $300 grant to veterans organizations in the city to help with the Memorial Day observance and program.

Paving Projects Get Kaukauna Okay

KAUKAUNA — An assessment rate of $13.10 per lineal foot, $6.55 for each side, for the concrete surfacing of streets was approved by the city council Tuesday night.

The entire program was approved, despite objections heard earlier at a board of public works meeting.

Citizens and board members of St. Aloysius parish objected to some of the street projects, but aldermen felt the low bid price made it advisable to complete the entire program this summer.

Program Includes
Streets to be improved include Ann Street from Crooks Avenue to Hendricks Avenue, Henry Street from Crooks Avenue to Wehouse Drive, Main Avenue and Laverne Lane from Ann Street to south city limits; Wehouse Drive from Ann to Hendricks Avenue; Hendricks Avenue from Ann to St. Mary's Place and St. Mary's Place from Main to Hendricks.

Aldermen also voted to reserve right-of-way in the Thelen Estates plot for street purposes and authorized the city to secure necessary land.

The city engineer was authorized to confer with a citizen concerning soil erosion caused by a sewer line running through his property.

Project Sought
Retiring Ald. Arnold Vander Loop attempted to have six streets in his ward considered for sewer and water laterals prior to proposed paving work in 1968. The council felt the matter should be considered by the new board of public works prior to setting up the 1969 program.

Donald Schaeffer, Berlin, was hired as street commissioner at a salary of $7,200 per year. Schaeffer will replace William Lambie who retired earlier this year due to poor health. Schaeffer is expected to assume his duties early in May.

A request from the board of education to have voting machines stored in city buildings rather than Park and Nicolet schools was referred to the board of public works.

An explanation of closed meetings, secret meetings, executive sessions and how they are handled was ordered filed with the city clerk for use by committee as deemed necessary.

Retiring Ald. Vander Loop (1st); Earl Luedtke, (2nd); Richard Helf, (4th), and Aloys Peters, (5th), thanked fellow aldermen, the mayor, clerk and attorney for cooperation showed by them during their years in half of the city.

The complaint said he didn't support his children, ages 8 through 13, from July 8 to Dec. 5, 1966.

School Board Adds Benefits To Insurance

Kimberly Employees To Share Cost of Increased Coverage

KIMBERLY — The board of education Monday night increased coverage under the Wisconsin Physician's Service policy for medical insurance on school district employees.

Increased benefits, effective June 1, will raise room allowance from $16 to $35 per day and cover oral surgery and diagnostic x-ray and laboratory tests in a doctor's office or clinic. The single policy cost will be raised $1.19 per month and the family policy an additional $2.93 per month.

The school district, which pays half of the insurance cost, will pay $135 more per month or $1,660 per year based on present employment.

Kaukauna Mayor Asks Group To Envision Better Community

KAUKAUNA — Mayor Gilbert Anderson Tuesday night urged aldermen to take time out to envision the type of city in which we wish to live, work and play and with good thinking, cooperation we can arrive at some betterment for our community.

He welcomed four new aldermen, Richard Gerrits (2nd), Robert Vondracek (1st), Gerald Curriculum Study Council is a pilot program for a uniform music program for all state schools.

Approval was given to a summer musical through the recreation program with Jerry Kaehr, high school band director, and Kermit Heckert, dramatics coach, as directors. Community players may include some adults. Rehearsals will start Aug. 1 for the after Labor Day performance.

The American Legion was granted use of the athletic field for its annual picnic June 13-20 in regional and local planning.

Tuna Takes to New Ideas Through the Day

Hot Tuna Stroganoff and Tuna Chilled Cream Salad are two different but delicious reasons for keeping the canned fish on hand for both family and company menus.

Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

Tuna fish has wonderful versatility, probably more than most homemakers have discovered. With its excellent protein nutrition this makes it an especially good food buy in these days of the high cost of living.

There are so many ways to prepare this fine fish . . . easy ways that make for quick preparation. Served hot or cold . . . morning, noon or night . . . it can go to the table plain or fancy.

Did you ever consider serving tuna before noon? Try today's recipe for Tuna Quiche for special family breakfasts or weekend brunch and you'll add another pleasant dimension to family eating habits. A simple American version of a great French classic, the quiche is a great way to combine eggs, cheese and other essentials in an elegant pie dish.

On the other hand, tuna goes into a make-ahead main dish casserole for a crisp and crunchy supper that will rate for certain with the whole family. This main dish with a new idea has canned French fried onion rings on top. From mixing through baking the dish takes about a half-hour to prepare.

Tuna Sizzlers and Corn Bread Stacks prove that canned tuna makes economical party snacks. Tuna's a good mixer . . . one of the best because it can serve a few or a crowd.

The Sizzlers are open-faced sandwiches broiled for a few minutes and served piping hot. A tuna spread, made light by the addition of beaten egg white and topped with grated cheese, is spread on rounds of rye or pumpernickle. The mixture can be made ahead of time. Then, just before serving time, the little sandwiches go into the broiler where they stay until they sizzle.

Tuna Corn Bread is an easy snack with big appetite appeal. Here again, the corn bread can be made ahead of time with the tuna and condensed tomato soup just a can opener's time away. The tops of these bread stacks are sprinkled with grated cheese and then the snacks are broiled until said cheese melts.

Tuna Stroganoff, served hot and flavorful, contrasts with a tuna salad to prove that the canned fish is a delicious food served hot or cold.

The stroganoff is based on an old Russian favorite that's always made with sour cream. The delicate flavor of tuna blends beautifully with stroganoff ingredients . . . the sour cream is stirred in just before serving time and goes in smoothly.

Another recipe contrast are the indoor and outdoor dishes with tuna as the main ingredient. Heathside Tuna Casserole is a robust one-dish meal perfect for busy homemakers on the go. This casserole combines squash, lima beans and tuna in a delicious buttermilk sauce.

Buttermilk? That's right, and if buttermilk has never been used this way before, the homemaker has a refreshing surprise in store for her. This is a refreshing variation on the basic white sauce most homemakers already use.

For zesty outdoor eating there are the Tuna Bar-B-Que Burgers that take easily to outdoor grill. These are pepped up with chili sauce and minced green peppers for a tasty tuna treat. These will become a favorite recipe along with the already popular beef burgers and steaks.

If variety is indeed the spice of life . . . then tuna is the best thing that can be kept in the kitchen cupboard, always at hand for either a planned or emergency meal.

TUNA QUICHE LORRAINE
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) tuna in vegetable oil
1 cup shredded American cheese
1 tablespoon flour
2 scallions, cut in ½ inch slices
1 cup heavy cream
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt

¾ teaspoon nutmeg
3 eggs
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Bake pastry shell in 450-degree oven, 10 minutes. Sprinkle tuna evenly in pastry shell. Combine cheese and flour; sprinkle with scallions over tuna. Beat together remaining ingredients. Pour over mixture in pastry shell. Bake in 325-degree oven, 50 minutes, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Recipe makes six servings.

MAKE-AHEAD CASSEROLE
2 cans tuna in vegetable oil
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped celery
1 can (10½ ounces) cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
1 can (1 pound) cut green beans
2 cups cooked elbow macaroni
1 can (3½ ounces) French fried onion rings

Drain two tablespoons of the oil from tuna into a sauce pan. Add onion and celery and cook until onion is tender but not brown. Remove from heat. Add soup; gradually stir in liquid from beans. Add tuna, drained beans and macaroni. Turn into a two-quart casserole. Cover and refrigerate. Bake, covered, in a 375 oven, one hour and 10 minutes. Uncover. Add onion. Turn to Page 4, Col. 1

Farm Bureau Women Sponsor Recipe Contest

For the second consecutive year the Outagamie Farm Bureau Women will sponsor the county-wide June Dairy Month recipe contest.

Mrs. Hilmer Mueller, Seymour, is general chairman of Dairy Month activities and heading the recipe contest is last year's county winner, Mrs. Alvin Radichel, route 2, Hortonville.

The contest is open to any Outagamie County resident 18 years or older and a contestant may submit as many recipes as he or she chooses. Judges, whose names will be announced later, will pick the best recipes showing a suitable but generous use of dairy products.

The winner of the Outagamie contest will represent the county in a regional competition to be televised in Green Bay in September.

Each recipe must be clear as to ingredients, their exact amounts and preparation directions. Each entry also must include the contestant's name, address and telephone number.

Annual Parley Scheduled by Wesleyan Guild

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Fond du Lac District will have its annual meeting at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at Camp Byron, near Fond du Lac. The District is composed of Methodist churches in Appleton, Beaver Dam, Columbus, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan and Waupun.

Volunteers Cited For Service at State Hospital

Red Cross volunteers who have chosen to serve at Winnebago State Hospital received their caps and several were awarded certificates of merit for outstanding service to hospital patients. The ceremony took place Monday evening at the hospital.

Among those honored was Mrs. Stephen Balliet, who has worked 3,000 hours at the hospital. Also receiving certificates were Mrs. Clarence Twiton, Mrs. Orville Strutz, and Mrs. Carl Anderson, Kaukauna, all with 1,500 hours. Mrs. Jake Mathews was cited for 1,000 hours of service.

Receiving caps denoting volunteer membership, with a minimum of 20 hours served, were Mrs. Owen Lloyd; Mrs. John Berben, Kimberly; Mrs. James Williamson, Miss Bonnie Phillips and Mrs. Jerome Warmus, Kimberly.

Certificates were presented by Mrs. Robert Petersen, chairman of volunteers.

The work of the volunteers was praised by speakers during the ceremony. Noting that if the approximate 15,000 hours contributed by volunteers each year were translated into money, the saving to the hospital would be enormous.

Missionary Watches Emerging Nigeria

For the past 23 years, Miss Martha Jacobson has been trying to work herself out of a job.

The Assemblies of God missionary, who has been serving in Nigeria, West Africa, since 1945, spent several days this week speaking to church groups in Appleton.

"It is satisfying to know that if I wouldn't return to Africa, the Nigerians could keep the missionary work going," she explains. "Years ago missionaries supervised the nationals but that situation no longer exists. We work as advisors to the Nigerians and are training them to take our jobs."

Miss Jacobson teaches preparatory classes for men and women entering one of the five Bible Schools in Nigeria. Students are trained to teach Bible classes and minister to their own tribes. This system helps alleviate language barriers and enables the missionaries to reach more people through the native leaders. There are 50 million people belonging to 250 different tribes in the country.

Teaches Hygiene
Short training sessions for Christian Home and Health advisors also are conducted by Miss Jacobson. Basic hygiene and health rules are taught to women leaders who visit various tribes in the rural areas to instruct them. The women can reach over 4,000 people a month, the missionary estimates.

"The simple things we in the United States take for granted, such as proper clothing and balanced diets, have increased the life span of the Nigerians," she says softly, explaining that notions of witchcraft and superstition have instilled a fear of sickness and death among the people. Medicine, sanitation and the preaching of the Gospel are helping to remove these fears, she feels.

At first the natives thought hospitals were a place to die in, she says. The missionaries tried to encourage women to go to the clinics to have their babies but mothers were afraid.

Alter Attitude
"That attitude has changed, though," she continues with a smile. "I sometimes drive patients to the hospitals in an ambulance but now there are so many to take I've appealed to the government to get a full-time driver. The people realize that good health comes from preventive measures and not from evil spirits."

Women are taught to keep their babies warm so they don't catch pneumonia. Many natives used to think bananas and fruit would give their children worms or that eggs contained a form of witchcraft rather than proteins.

Although many Nigerians retain beliefs in superstition and ancestral oracles by which people have this realization, they guide their lives, others they can rid themselves of superstition."

In addition to the Bible classes and home and health seminars, Miss Robinson teaches English. She tries to give her students the basics of reading and writing so they can educate themselves. Work books and mimeographed lesson sheets are given to adults so they can continue their lessons at home.

Another Power
"I preach a combination of hygiene and the Gospel," the dark-haired woman says. "I teach the people that Christ wants them to care for their bodies and their health so they will not become sick. Once they have overcome their fear of death and evil spirits they become aware of a stronger power — the power of Christ."

A "head knowledge" of the Gospel, however, is not enough, according to the American missionary. "A person also must have an experiential knowledge of Christ and believe that Christ can change his life. When the

Although high schools and colleges are common sights throughout Nigeria today, Miss Robinson remembers when she taught English classes outside under the trees.

"One of the tribal chiefs wanted to learn to write his name. I made an alphabet in the sand and taught it to him," she recalls. "When he had written his name he laughed in delight and considered himself

"It has been a wonderful experience living in a country coming of age," she says sincerely. "I don't regret a year I spent in Africa. I have seen what a difference simple measures in hygiene can make. Schools and churches are progressing and national leaders have been trained. It has been thrilling, watching my spiritual children grow up and become independent."

District Homemakers Discuss Purposes, Goals

"Attempt great things and you may accomplish great things," said Mrs. Merwin Beyer, Home Economics Agent for Manitowoc County, speaking at the annual East District State Homemakers Clubs meeting Tuesday at the Conway Hotel. Approximately 120 women from Outagamie, Kewaunee, Manitowoc, Calumet, Door, Brown, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan Counties attended the day-long event.

"The homemaker has been associated only with egg-beaters and clothing dummies," added the extension agent. "It is time that we do something to change this image."

A group that resists change said Mrs. Beyer, is one that will be frustrated in its attempts to accomplish anything outside its often closely knit body. People change and, therefore, purposes and programs have to follow suit.

"In every home, traditional concepts are being overshadowed by contemporary ideas. The focus on the home has switched from the dwelling to the dwellers; and from property development to human development," explained the agent.

The homemakers clubs throughout the state should gear their programs to situations existing outside the home. Problems such as water pollution and school drop-outs can be overcome only if enough interested people get together and do something about them.

"That's where our strength lies," stressed Mrs. Beyer. "We can get together. There are enough of us to make a noise; to accomplish something besides baking bread and learning new embroidery stitches."

Mrs. Beyer urged that the clubs be aware of new ideas and take advantage of available educational opportunities. Communication between clubs and with the public can alert members to different programs.

"The steps in accomplishing anything are lost if nothing is actually done. Study, evaluation and examination fall by the wayside if action is not taken. Action is the key word," concluded the speaker.

Members later met in small groups to discuss different aspects of the homemakers clubs' programs. These 'buzz sessions' concentrated on the Responsibility of Officers and Members; Programming Problems; What Members Expect of the Extension Organization, and Evaluation of Who Comes to District Meetings and Why.

These sessions were held to determine what can be done to stimulate interest of non-members and to keep existing clubs tuned into current situations. Some members felt that having more small clubs was more beneficial to a successful program than one larger club.

"If the clubs are too large, many members lose interest in the program. Often they start talking among themselves at the meeting and the impact of the event is lost," said one member.

Another member felt perhaps clubs should be divided according to age. "What interests older women often isn't of any interest to the young married. Also, the older women like to meet in the afternoon, an impossibility for the young wife with young children at home," she stated.

Another member disagreed, saying that a club needs both an older woman's experience and a younger woman's vitality.

Mrs. Harold Ort, Black Creek, was elected as the East District secretary during a noon election.

Members felt the meeting was helpful in presenting new programs for individual clubs to undertake.

"It's helpful to hear other clubs' problems and accomplishments," said one member during the luncheon. "Other members can present objective criticisms and compliments, often shedding a new light on the situation for those closely connected with it."

Mrs. Elmer Kroening, Reedsville, East District chairman, presides at the annual East District Homemakers Clubs' convention Tuesday at the Conway Hotel. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Parents' World

Listening, Not Correcting May Help Stuttering Child

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: I recently read an article that said that all children stutter quite naturally as they learn to speak, and that the major reason some kids never outgrow this is that their parents keep on correcting them. That way, the parents really make a problem of something that the child would otherwise grow out of. Do you agree with this theory or not? I'm asking because I have a little 4-year-old nephew who stutters — at least that's what his mother says — and if this theory is correct, maybe it wouldn't be too late to try to get my sister to stop harping on his stuttering. What do you think? MRS. E. S.

Ask your sister to pay careful attention to the num-the same age also hesitate or repeat words. She'll probably notice that, although she her of times other children doesn't consider any of them stutters, they make as many speech errors as her son does!

When she corrects her son's speech, she makes it increasingly difficult for him to be relaxed and confident in speaking, so she increases his tendency to continue to make the mistakes she calls "stuttering." In a few years, she can turn him into a confirmed stammer.

One of the most noted speech experts, Dr. Wendell Johnson, advises parents of a child they consider a stammer to be as friendly and considerate toward their child as they would be toward a house guest. Remind your sister that she wouldn't interrupt a guest to correct his speech or to tell him to slow down. She would listen politely and with signs of obvious interest. Such reactions to her son's talking will probably produce an immediate relaxation that will allow him to gradually develop more mature ways of speaking, without any special help from others.

DEAR DR. JONES: My wife has always had a neurotic attitude toward her natural functions as a woman, and now she has taught my 13-year-old daughter to get snippy and morose in exactly the same way each month.

Isn't there any way to stop women from passing their neuroses on to the next generation? MR. B. W.

Pre-menstrual tension isn't neurotic or learned. It's a natural physiological and psychological reaction to changing hormone concentrations. Almost all women show sharp mood swings and mild thinking disorders when the progesterone-estrogen balance is temporarily altered each month.

Accompany your wife and daughter to your family physician for help with this problem. Most women obtain dramatic relief from modern medications. Our grandmothers had to rely on plenty of tea or an occasional brandy.

P.S.: It would probably help if you apologized to your women for your intolerant and mistaken attitude.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

15 THRIFT AVIRTUE? YES NO

illness. Virtue is usually found in the middle ground between enjoying the present while planning some resources for the future.

Is it natural for babies to fear being left alone?

Yes — No —

No, say some psychologists, unless it has been learned. They feel that when a baby is left alone he may get hungry with no one to feed him. His real fear, then, is not solitude, but hunger. The baby who is well fed may not mind being left alone and, later on, will be willing to have his parents put him in a room by himself and close the door. There are, of course, other reasons why being left alone might become frightening.

Is feminism on the way back?

Yes — No —

No. The militant suffragette and old-fashioned feminism are

No more. Women today are not so much being told to prove themselves as to pitch in and help. When a girl feels she is needed, that there is something she can do for her community or her country which very much needs doing, she is motivated to serve rather than just to show that she can amount to something as a woman.

How do you explain pregnancy to a child? How do you satisfy a child's curiosity when he says, "Mommy, why are you getting so fat?" The solution is simple: Send for "How to Tell Your Child About Sex." Written in easy-to-read, everyday language, this booklet is a must for every "expecting family. It's yours for 25 cents and your name and address (including ZIP Code), sent to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of The Post-Crescent.

Teen-Age Boy's Unusual Habits Concern Next Door Neighbor

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Next door to us lives a divorced woman with her 16-year-old son. The problem is hers, but I'd like to do something about it if you say I should. My wife says, "Stay out of it."

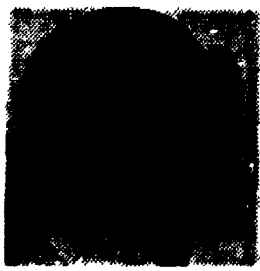

The boy started to wear his hair very long about six months ago. Last week I was shocked to see that his hair had been dyed from a dark brown to a golden blonde. Also, he must have had a permanent because it was very wavy. This morning the boy was sitting on the front porch and seemed to be wearing a dress. I couldn't believe my eyes so I walked over to talk to him and, sure enough, it was a blue cotton jumper with lace on the pockets.

He said nothing about his outfit and neither did I. Don't you agree that I should report this to the authorities? Please advise. — Not Sure

Dear Not: I can't imagine to what "authorities" you are considering making a report, but I suggest you drop the matter because there is no law against a boy wearing whatever he wants to on his own front porch — or anywhere else, provided he doesn't create a public nuisance.

I don't know if the lad is a homosexual or a transvestite and neither do you. So take your wife's advice and mind your own business, unless he asks for help one day, in which case I hope you will suggest counseling.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was very happy to see the sound advice you gave to the woman who signed herself "Need A Boost." She wanted to know if it was all right to take pep pills that had transformed her cleaning lady from a dragged-out slow poke to a veritable ball of fire.

My sister worked full time as a waitress while raising four active children. She did all her own housework and laundry and even kept up the yard. I asked her many times how she managed to do so much and she said, "Pep pills. I couldn't get through the day without them." I begged her to get help in the house (her husband could well afford it), but she said: "No, every dime we don't have to pay out is money we can spend on our children."

The children are now grown and on their own. My sister is in a mental hospital. She is only 58 years old but she looks 80. She weighs less than 100 pounds and doesn't recognize any of us when we come to visit her.

The first question the doctor asked when she collapsed was, "Has she been taking any pills that you know of?"

My sister, unfortunately, acquired the pills from a "friend", without the knowledge of her physician.

Please print this story for the benefit of others for whom it may not be too late. Thank you. — Cumberland, Maryland

Dear C. M.: Here's your letter and my thanks for the personal documentation. I repeat: No medication of any kind should be taken without the approval of a physician. A pill that saved someone's life could end yours.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Your Money's Worth

That Damaged Toaster Might be Tax Deduction

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The other day I threw away an expensive toaster which I had dented by trying to toast a cheese sandwich in it instead of in the tray under it (yes, it was very, very late at night.) Although it was still usable, Louise, our housekeeper, refused to continue toasting bread in it, so finally I shamefacedly placed it in the space reserved by our New York apartment building for discards.

I was wrong. I should have given the toaster to a charitable organization which employs handicapped workers to restore items of this sort and which then sells the repaired merchandise in its thrift shops. The organization would have received a welcome donation; the handicapped worker would have had a job and the money paid by a customer for my toaster would have helped pay his or her salary. I would have had a tax deduction for the fair value of my contribution.

Clean Up Time

It's past April 15, you've filed your 1966 income tax return and it's too late to claim charitable deductions to cut your 1966 income tax to the legal minimum.

But now it's annual spring

Sylvia Porter

cleaning season, and precisely the right time to start accumulating charitable deductions which will help cut your 1967 income tax to its legal minimum.

While there are hundreds of thousands of worthwhile charities, there are only a comparatively few nationwide organizations which collect used merchandise on a large scale for resale (Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, Goodwill Industries, Inc. are among the well-known names.)

Toaster to Goodwill

Of these, Goodwill is the leading non-profit organization which has as its central aim the rehabilitation of the handicapped, which employs disabled persons to restore donated merchandise of every description and which then sells the repaired items in its thrift shops to help pay the workers' salaries.

If I'd given my dented toaster to Goodwill, it could have been restored to almost new condition. The organization would have furnished me with a tax statement evaluating the appliance if I had requested the statement in a note sent with the item. I would have helped employ a disabled person who otherwise might have been on welfare and absorbing our tax dollars. Handicapped workers at Goodwill earn nearly $40 million a year, pay more than $3.5 million in federal and state taxes annually.

Obviously, housewives are not the only ones who can save on taxes by charitable contributions of merchandise.

Used Furniture

If you are a businessman about to spring-clean your office, you should check what tax savings you could achieve from a contribution of your used furniture and equipment. The total would depend on the amount of depreciation you already have claimed on your office things.

Or if you are a businessman with unsold new inventories, you may prefer the tax breaks from a donation to the chore of liquidating. As an illustration, say you head a corporation which earns more than $25,000 a year and which sells merchandise at a 40 per cent markup.

Say you donate $1,000 of your unsold inventories (cost to you $600.) Your corporation gets a $1,000 charitable deduction which will save you $400 in taxes (48 per cent tax rate.) Your company's out-of-pocket cost, though, will be only $120 ($600 cost of merchandise less $480 tax savings.)

Now is the right time to assist a charity and get a bonus tax break by so doing. "Now" is always the right time when everybody comes out ahead.

Can't Tell Protestors Without a Scorecard

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Leaders of open housing marchers asked all the demonstrators to fill out a card with their names and addresses Monday night.

A leader explained that bail bondsmen had gotten demonstrators and hecklers mixed up when some of each were arrested Friday night, and inadvertently had provided bond for two of the hecklers.

A lawyer for the demonstrators did the same thing. He obtained a continuance of the cases of two other hecklers in police court.

Dodgers Win Rain-Delayed Contest, 7-2

St. Louis Notches Fifth Straight Win; Cubs Defeat Phillies

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Los Angeles finally has come up with a winning formula: Start off with Sandy Koufax pitching and take a long seventh-inning stretch.

But don't bet on the same combination clicking again — not in balmy California, anyway.

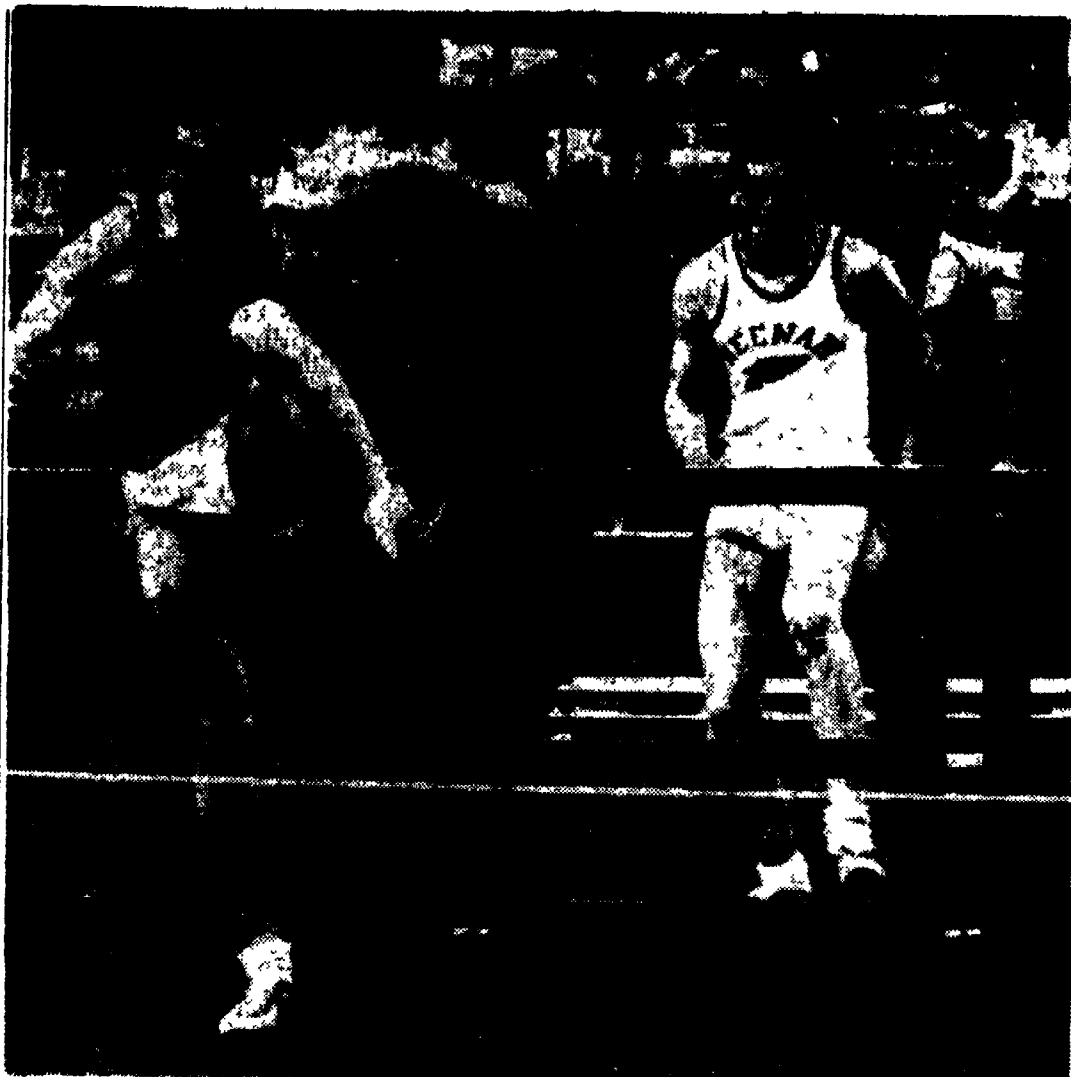

The Dodgers whipped Cincinnati 7-2 in their home opener Tuesday night — scoring four wrapup runs after a 78-minute rain delay in the seventh inning — and braked a four-game get-away skid.

Carried 3-2 Edge

Koufax? The great left-hander, who has shifted from the mound to the broadcast booth, was on hand to throw out the first ball during pre-game ceremonies.

Claude Osteen, the Dodgers' current southpaw ace, then took over and carried a 3-2 edge into

Witt, Palmbach Both Register Pair of Victories

Capturing 10 of 14 first places and the same number of second places, Fox Valley Lutheran High School whipped Hilbert, 83-35, in the Foxes' track opener here Tuesday.

Five FVL trackmen accounted for 48 of the team's points, with Jim Witt leading the way with victories in the quarter mile and low hurdles.

Hilbert sophomore John Palmbach, who lettered at FVL as a freshman last year, tied Witt for meet scoring honors with triumphs in the 100 and 220.

Rounding out FVL's top five were Darwin Tiede, Elwyn Kluess, Brock Woods and Tim Petermann, all with 9½ points. FVL gained its big point spread by slamming the high jump and taking first and second in the discus, pole vault, broad jump, 440 and high hurdles. In addition, the Foxes swept both the 880 and mile relays.

Closest Races

One of the closest races was the 100 where Palmbach edged Tiede by five hundredths of a second. In the 440, Witt beat teammate Woods by 35 hundredths of a second.

Kluess came within three feet of the FVL school record in the discus as he heaved the disc over 126 feet.

Bears, 49ers, Steelers Also Home Foes

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers will meet the Detroit Lions Sept. 17 to begin their quest for an unprecedented third straight National Football League title.

The Lions will be one of 11 different teams that the world champion Packers will be facing in the revised NFL schedule announced Tuesday.

The NFL teams have been divided into four divisions within the two conferences because of the addition of New Orleans as the league's 16th franchise.

The Packers are members of the Central Division along with Chicago, Detroit and Minnesota.

Green Bay will play the Bears, the Lions and the Vikings in home and away series.

The Packers, with 37 of its veterans expected back from last season's 40-man roster, will play only one game against each of the members of the Western Conference's other division — The Coastal, which includes Atlanta, Baltimore, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

4 Eastern Opponents

The remaining four games on the 14-game schedule will be against teams in the Eastern Conference's Century Division — Cleveland, New York, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

The Packers will play at Green Bay as late as Dec. 17 when they close out against the Steelers.

The two weeks between Oct. 30 and Nov. 12 may well prove to be the toughest stretch in the

Takes Second in Class B

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The four division leaders held their positions as the fifth night of competition was completed Tuesday in The Post-Crescent's Bowl-O-Rama at the 41 Bowl.

Major shuffle in the standings came in the men's divisions as Dave Melby, Scandinavia, took over second place in Class B and Ken Tourville, Appleton, climbed into third place in Class A.

There were no changes in the top 10 places in women's Class A while the top effort in Class B for the ladies saw Judie Hilliker, Neenah, move into sixth place.

Action will continue tonight at the 41 Bowl with Bowl-O-Rama shifts slated at 7 and 9 p.m. Entries are continuing to pour in for the tournament, and officials feel there is a possibility that last year's record turnout of 2,517 may be topped.

Melby used a big 220 scratch start and a 160 pin handicap to move into second place in the Class B men's division. His 220 on the second shift also was high scratch game and with 40 pins handicap gave him a 260 total. This won for the Scandinavia kegler the shift prize of a barbecue grill.

Runs Into Trouble

Melby could have easily gone into the division lead but he ran into trouble in his last game and skidded to a 124 count after having scores of 220, 159 and 182 to head into the crucial fourth game needing only a 137 to take first place.

Another of the Iola-Scandinavia contingent that participated in the Bowl-O-Rama last night did quite well as Alfred Johnson rolled into fourth place with a 829 total. Johnson had 717 scratch with consistent games of 173, 193, 170 and 181. He carried 112 pins handicap.

Robert Grissman, Kaukauna, took over sixth place in Class B with his scratch total of 707 and 120 pins handicap for an 827 count. Grissman narrowly missed being the first kegler to record a triplicate in the Bowl-O-Rama as he hit a 170 his first game and then followed with a pair of 172 lines before finishing with 193.

Triplicate Award

The top triplicate in both the men's and women's division of the Bowl-O-Rama will be awarded a handsome new wrist watch through the courtesy of Martin J. Hupka Jewelers, Appleton.

The only other Class B change in the top 10 saw Clarence Blom, Scandinavia, roll into 10th place with a 693 scratch and 112 handicap for a 805 Blom's high game was 187.

In Class A for the men, Tourville had his strike ball working and only a 158 game in his third effort prevented him from challenging Orv Strutz or Mike King for one of the top two places.

Tourville started with a 188 and then bombed a 245 scratch which won the shift prize for him on the 7 p.m. squad. Ken then slipped to the 158, but came back strong with a 201 for a nifty 792 scratch to go with his 88 pins handicap. Tourville had 18 strikes in the four games, including eight in the 245 singleton.

Sensational Start

Elroy Kalies, Appleton, got off to a sensational start and ended up taking over sixth place in Class A. Kalies cracked games of 214, 246 and 205 to head into his last game with a 665 scratch. However, he ran into trouble in the final line and had a 154 count. Out of his 22 strikes, Kalies had 18 of them in the first three games.

Best effort in women's Class A Tuesday night was a 745 total by Marlene Parker, Stephenville, which boosted her into 12th place. Her best game was a 182 and she missed out on winning the shift prize by two pins as her sister Mrs. Donna Morack edged her out. Marlene had 206 with her handicap and Donna rolled a 208 on a 163 game and 45 pins of handicap. Both girls bowl for the Bill's Bar team and the whole squad competed in the Bowl-O-Rama last night.

Judie Hilliker took over sixth in Class B as she fired a 583 scratch total and carried 184 pins handicap for a 767 count. Her best effort was a 189 in the second game, which, along with 45 pins handicap per line, gave her a 235.

Mrs. Morack moved into 10th place in Class B with her total of 736.

Felix Mantilla Lost to Chicago For Three Months

CHICAGO (AP) — Felix Mantilla, 32, veteran utility player acquired by the Chicago Cubs this spring, will be out of action for three months, a doctor said following surgery Tuesday to repair damage to Mantilla's left heel tendon.

Mantilla, a native of Isabela, Puerto Rico, was injured in spring training and reinjured a few days ago in his vulnerable lower left leg.

Bachhuber, Pierce Win Twice

Rockets' Track Team Streaks Past Terrors in Outdoor Opener, 81-37

BY RON WITT

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — Tom Bachhuber and Bob Pierce emerged double winners as the powerful Neenah High School track team streaked past Appleton, 81-37, Tuesday afternoon in the season's first outdoor meet for both schools.

Bachhuber copped both the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and Pierce took honors in the shot put and discus throw, as Neenah captured 11 of the 14 events. Coach Ben Meixl's Rockets slammed two events — the 440 and 220 yard dashes — and were easy winners in both relays.

Hurdler John Vogt and pole vaulter Cliff Tierney provided the bright spots for Appleton. Vogt gave the Terrors 10 points by winning the 120 yard highs in 16 2 and 180 lows in 21 9, and Tierney cleared 10 feet for the winning height in the pole vault. Vogt opened by taking the high hurdles, but Bachhuber's victory in the 100 tied things up. The Neenah dashman just nosed out Appleton's Steve Kagen with a final lunge at the tape, finishing with a :10 5 clocking.

Ahead for Good

The meet produced some fine times, despite temperatures that hovered in the upper 40's. Terry Olson put the Rockets ahead for good in the third event, as he stepped off a 4 39 0 mile to win by 25 yards over the Terrors' Scott Schulz. Russ Andrews, Jim Bemowski and Dan Haertl gave Neenah a sweep in the 440. Andrews won with a :52 3. Tom Schaller won the 880 in 2 03 6.

Neenah's two relay teams outdistanced Appleton in a pair of good marks. Dan Meyer, Bachhuber, Jim Burton and Jim Kussow ran a collective 1:33 8 to win the 880 relay. Burton, Kussow, Andrews and Bemowski took the mile relay in 3 35 0. Neenah dominated the field events, with the exception of the pole vault. Pierce tossed the shot 53 feet, 8 inches to beat Appleton's Dave Romensko. Romensko had his best throw of the spring at 51-4. Pierce also hurled the discus 136-6.

Chuck Wismer gave the Rockets a victory in the long jump, with a leap of 21-10, while Dan Blank won the high jump at 5-8. Blank and teammate John Lagodney cleared the same height, but Blank had one less miss.

120 yard high hurdles — 1 Vogt (A), 2 Moen (N), 3 Beard (N) Time — 16 2 sec

Howard Hurls Chisox To Win With 6-Hitter

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
Bruce Howard is pitching backwards in an effort to move forward.

And the Chicago White Sox right-hander took a step in that direction Tuesday, shutting out Boston on six hits through eight innings and beating them 5-2.

"Formerly, I would say I was a breaking ball pitcher using an occasional fast ball," Howard said. "From now on, it's going to be the reverse."

The 24-year-old, who was 9-8 in 1965 — his first full season with the White Sox — and 9-5 last year, said he threw his fast ball three fourths of the time Tuesday.

"I used to open up with a curve ball against almost every hitter," he said. "That's my out pitch, you know. But I threw only five or six of them as the first pitch this time. And when I kept my fast ball low, they couldn't hit it."

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit beat California 4-1 and the Washington at New York game was rained out. No night games were scheduled.

Barry Scores 55 As Warriors Win

Nate Thurmond Also Stars In 130-124 Victory in NBA Playoff

By JAKE STEVENSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rick Barry scored 55 points and with great help from big Nate Thurmond and the smaller Jim King brought the San Francisco Warriors a 130-124 triumph over the Philadelphia 76ers Tuesday night. Philadelphia had beaten San Francisco in the first two meetings of their best-of-7 National Basketball Association title playoff.

Barry sent the Warriors off to a fast start with 17 points in the first quarter and 12 in the second as San Francisco took a 69-63 lead at the half before a full house crowd of 14,773 at the Cow Palace.

In Contention

Nearly as important in the victory which kept the Warriors in contention for the crown were the 28 points by King and Thurmond's 17 points plus 25 rebounds. Nate battled Philadelphia's giant Wilt Chamberlain on even terms.

Barry and King built a 14-point San Francisco margin early in the third quarter only to have Chet Walker and Billy Cunningham pace a comeback which brought the 76ers within a point at 103-102.

Again it was Barry and King spearheading a surge putting the Warriors back in front by seven with three minutes to play.

As the crowd roared approval, the Warriors played on even terms the rest of the way with Barry hitting for five points. He missed four free throw attempts.

22 Field Goals

The former University of Miami All-American hit 22 field goals, of every variety, and added 11 free throws.

Chamberlain led the 76ers with 26 points as both Walker and Hal Greer netted 21 and Cunningham 19.

The Warriors' reserve forward Tom Meschery contributed four key field goals in the final period after reaching that point with only one goal.

The rugged battle kept officials John Vanek and Earl Strom busy.

They called four technical fouls — on Philadelphia Coach Alex Hannum, the Warrior bench, King and Cunningham.

Hannum tried three defenders in his attempt to check Barry. They were Walker, Cunningham, and Dave Gambee.

Maple Leafs Earn Right to Meet Montreal for Stanley Cup

Black Hawks Defeated by Toronto, 3-1

By JOE MOOSHIL
TORONTO (AP) — The name of Conacher is a famous one in Canada's athletic annals and because of it the Toronto Maple Leafs have earned the right to battle the Montreal Canadiens for the Stanley Cup.

Brian Conacher, young and strong and scholarly, scored two key goals to guide the Leafs to a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks Tuesday night and give them the semi-final series 4-2.

Brian is the 25-year-old son of the late Lionel Conacher, who was voted Canada's athlete of the half century. Brian's uncle, Charlie Conacher, was a hockey great.

Brian, a rookie of the National Hockey League, scored only 14 goals during the regular season. The only other time he had two goals in one game was in the season opener against the New York Rangers.

Today, however, he is the pride and joy of Toronto. Conacher put the Leafs ahead at 5:06 of the first period and then broke a 1-1 tie with what proved to be the winning goal at 4:47 of the final period, to kill off the hopes of the Hawks, who wanted to add the Stanley Cup to their list of laurels this season. Among those was their first NHL championship.

Although hampered by a series of injuries picked up late in the regular season, the Hawks refused to alibi.

"We were beaten and that's all there is to it," said Coach Billy Reay. "I'm proud of these guys for winning the league championship."

The Leafs, weary from their rugged series with Chicago, will be underdogs to the Canadiens, who swept to four straight victories over New York and are healthy and well-rested. But then, Toronto didn't figure to defeat Chicago either.

Duszak Slams 244; Blahnik Has 625 Series

Quella Grocery Cops 'Universal' Crown; Jacob Rolls 232

Bob Duszak cracked a 244 game and Dave Blahnik rolled a 625 series to share honors in the Universal League at the 41 Bowl in Tuesday night action.

Duszak finished with a 618 series for runnerup in that department and other honor scores included a 556 by Harry Wilderman and a 553 by Dick Langdok.

Quella Grocery (63-36) won the Universal loop championship.

Dave Jacobs slammed a 232 game and Milt Bergner had a 591 series to divide honors in the Metropolitan Men's League at Sabre Lanes last night.

Jacobs finished with a 564 and other top counts included Dave Erdmann 581, Tim Drews 553 and Jim Burick 559.

Bill Raddatz had a 560 series and Tom Vandenberg recorded a 522 for the only honor scores in the Continental League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly, Tuesday night.

Ritger, of Hartford, is the only state keger who is a regular member of the Professional Bowlers Association tour. He also is an AMF staff member.

His was a machine-like performance in the state tourney as he blazed a strike trail that was terrific. In the doubles, he started with a 253 game, followed with a 234 and then closed with a booming 289.

In the 289 line he had 10 strikes in a row, picked off nine pins in the 11th frame and then spared. Ritger followed that string of strikes by starting his first game in the singles with eight in a row so he had 18 strikes out of 19 tries at one stretch. Dick ended up with a 629 series in the singles.

In last Sunday's column, this writer criticized the state bowling tournament officials for their lack of cooperation in reporting facts about the tourney to local newspapers.

The criticism was aimed directly at the "state" officials and not the local workers who are labeled as "honorary officials" and who get in on practically all the work of running such a tournament.

There have been a handful of local men who have labored from three months before the state meet started, through the past weekend and who will be tied up until mid-May. These are not the ones to be criticized because they are doing more than their part to make the tournament a success.

It's the state officials who have unloaded the duties on the local people who should feel responsible for keeping reports on their tournament up to date.

Just for example, the information at the first part of this article about Ritger was never reported. This writer "heard" about it while at the 41 Bowl Monday afternoon. In the story released through the Associated Press Monday morning there was not even a mention about Ritger's 776, which is a national honor count by a long shot.

The local workers who are shouldering the burden of the long tournament are not to blame for the misgivings of others. Headed by Duane "Kat" Kassube who is "honorary tournament president" the local people have done a fine job and the tournament has been run off smoothly.

Jimmie Hall put California ahead 1-1 with a homer in the second, but the Tigers came back to tie in the bottom of the inning when Dick McAuliffe's sacrifice fly scored Bill Freehan who had doubled.

Earl Wilson went the distance for Detroit and evened his record at 1-1.

Hortonville '9' Triumphs Over Winneconne

5 Walks During 4-Run Fifth Frame Proves Decisive

HORTONVILLE — Receiving five bases on balls in the fifth inning, Hortonville "walked" to a 4-1 victory over Winneconne in the Little Nine Conference opener for both schools here Tuesday.

Picking up their first win after two non-league setbacks, the Polar Bears were held to four hits but made the most of fifth inning wildness by Winneconne hurlers Mike Heath and Russ Allen. Scoring all four runs in the frame, three men were forced home by bases loaded walks.

Dick Tennie went the distance for the triumph, fanning nine while scattering six hits.

Al Skuby paced the Wolves at the plate, cracking a double and a single in three trips. Jerry Rudloff had the only hit in Hortonville's fourth-inning uprising. Heath was charged with the loss.

Barbara Roff fired a 222 game, and Karen Becker had a 537 series, which included a 196 game, to lead the way in the Hit and Miss League at the 41 Bowl Tuesday night.

Mary Morrissey was runnerup in series with a 511 and other top scores included Macy Wideman 210-510, Donna Larson 207-565, Enid Cleaves 202 and Joyce George 210.

Lois Schmidt rolled a 215 game, and Audrey Bazile had a 525 series on the final night of action in the Nite-Out League at Sabre Lanes Tuesday.

Lois finished with a 506 series while Audrey had a 199 game with the top set. Carolyn Gresl fired a 194 single, Peggy Nau had a 193 line and 509 series, Sue McDonald rolled a 191 and "Frankie" Toonen had a 199 game.

Super Bar (72½-26½) took the Nite-Out loop championship and Blafmeister's was second.

In the Women's Monday Night League at the Twelve Corners Lanes, Louise Litzkow had a 190 game and Mary Jane Wilson posted a 192 single and 514 series. The Twelve Corners team copped the league championship.

Titans Whip Pair of Track Opponents

OSHKOSH — The Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh track team overwhelmed St. Norbert and Stevens Point in a double dual here Tuesday.

The Titans beat St. Norbert, 117-14, winning all 15 events. WSU-O rapped Stevens Point, 91-54, capturing 13 of 16 firsts.

Menasha's Darrell Redmond tied a WSU-O school record by winning the high hurdles in 14.9 seconds. He won the high hurdles event against both teams and won the only low hurdles race he entered.

Oshkosh performers setting field records were: Gus Oaks, 13 feet, 7 inches in the pole vault; Ken Dux, 4:29.8 in the mile; Roland Jahns, 9:53.7 in the 2-mile; and Stan Mathes, 1:59.4 in the 800.

The Titans' Jim Houwers scored four wins—winning both the 100 and 220 against both foes.

Foss Says Grid Merger Won't Go Through as Planned

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Merger of the National Football League and the American Football League will never go through as originally planned, predicts former AFL Commissioner Joe Foss.

Foss, who headed the AFL from its inception in 1960 until his resignation seven years later, gave his views in an interview Tuesday. He was in Minneapolis for meetings of an insurance firm with which he now is associated.

The former commissioner and ex-South Dakota governor recalled the merger agreement made last summer included a joint draft and championship game.

"My understanding is that one negative vote from any member of the two leagues can stop the final agreement from being ratified before the 1970 season," Foss told Sid Hartman of The Minneapolis Tribune.

"The way I have it figured," he added, "the AFL would have to pay the NFL $37.5 million if the merger were to come off as planned. The NFL also will be paid for the 19th franchise in the AFL."

"I can't believe that members of the AFL will ever agree to pay this money. There are numerous tax problems to overcome. I know that Sonny Werblin, owner of the New York Jets, is utterly opposed to paying anything. He may sell his franchise regardless."

Trio Combines on 3-Hitter

Zephyrs Deal Kimberly 10 to 1 Baseball Loss

MENASHA — St. Mary High School only made four hits but, with the help of nine errors, five walks and two hit batsmen, whipped Kimberly, 10-1, in a non-conference game Tuesday afternoon.

The Menashans tallied two runs in both the second and fourth innings without the benefit of a safety and collected six markers in the fifth on three hits. Gary Coopman had a bases-empty homer in the frame.

Kimberly came up with its only run in the fourth on Tom Schiedermayer's double, an error and a wild pitch.

Jon Walbrun, Marc Haberman and Mike Heroux combined to hold the Papermakers to three hits. Dan Blajeski and Jeff Haas hit singles in the third and sixth innings, respectively.

The victory was the third in four starts for the Zephyrs, who entertain Oshkosh in a double-header Saturday afternoon. The Indians edged Neenah, 1-0, Tuesday for their second straight win. Kimberly is now 0-2.

Reedsville '9' Tips Denmark

Pair of 3-Run Rallies in Final Inning Spark Tilt

DENMARK — Reedsville High School saw the Denmark Vikings score three runs in the top of the seventh inning to take a 3-1 lead, but the Panthers came back with three of their own in the bottom half to take a 4-3 victory Tuesday.

The key blow for Reedsville was a 2-out, 2-run double by Mike Vandenberg after the Panthers had closed the gap to 3-2. Reedsville got three of its 10 hits in the inning.

Reedsville had collected four hits for a single run in the fifth inning.

Denmark came alive in the seventh, when a ground-out, sacrifice, and a 2-run double by Darrell Hansen put the Vikings in front. The Vikings had gone 5-2-3 innings without a hit off Greg Ebert.

the seventh. With two out and two Dodgers on base in the bottom of the inning, the rains poured down and time was called.

The Dodgers waited patiently — they had never lost an inning to the elements in 734 home games since moving from Brooklyn to Los Angeles nine years ago. When play finally was resumed, John Roseboro, Bob Bailey and Gene Michael drew successive walks, forcing in two runs, and Jim Hickman, pinch hitting for Osten, delivered two more with a single.

The rain, which fell throughout the day, held the crowd to 17,947 — smallest turnout the Dodgers have drawn for a Los Angeles opener.

While the Dodgers broke into the victory column, St. Louis' unbeaten Cardinals posted their fifth victory, edging San Francisco 2-1 on an unearned run in the 11th inning.

Two-Base Error
Orlando Cepeda singled the winner across after a two-base error by center fielder Ken Henderson, who was filling in for injured Willie Mays, opened the gate. The loss was the Giants' sixth in seven games.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs downed Philadelphia 8-4 and Atlanta nipped Houston 3-2. The New York Mets' night game at Pittsburgh was rained out.

Osteen, who gave up seven hits started the go-ahead rally in the fifth with a single off loser Milt Pappas. He was forced at second by Wes Parker, who then stole second and scored on Lou Johnson's single, breaking a 2-2 tie.

The tainted run that lifted St. Louis past the Giants marked a strong pitching effort by San Francisco's Gaylord Perry, who went the distance and yielded only five hits. Reliever Hal Woodeshuck was the winner.

With two out in the 11th, Roger Maris reached second base when Henderson dropped his fly ball Cepeda then came through with the tie-breaking single.

Pulled Muscle
Mays, sitting out a Giant home opener for only the second time in his 16-year career because of a pulled hamstring muscle, pinch hit in the bottom of the 11th and rolled to the mound for the final out.

Adolfo Phillips drove in four runs with a homer and triple as the Cubs, who had blown a 3-0 lead, stormed back in the late innings Phillips' two-run homer sent them ahead 5-4 in the eighth and they added three more runs in the ninth, two on Byron Browne's bases-loaded double.

Palmer Cards 8-Under-Par

Arnie Victor in First Tony Lema Scholarship Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Arnold Palmer called it "one of the best rounds I've ever shot anywhere."

Palmer, who has shot a bundle of great rounds, fired an eight-under-par 63 Tuesday at the Stardust Golf Club to win the first annual Tony Lema Memorial Scholarship Fund Tournament.

"In view of the 25-to-30 mile-an-hour winds, I'd say this was much better than my 64 Sunday," said Palmer, referring to his course record on the closing day of the Tournament of Champions last weekend.

Has Two Eagles
Arnie tore up the Stardust course with eight birdies and two eagles Tuesday, and only four bogeys kept him from breaking 60 Palmer's nine-hole scores were 31-32 over the par-35-36 course.

In second place was Bobby Nichols with a 70, while Art Wall Jr. finished with a 71, and Argentine Roberto de Vicenzo shot a 72.

The tournament, named for pro golfer Tony Lema, who died last July in a private plane crash, will provide two four-year college scholarships for young golfers.

Kevin King went all the way to win for Omro, while Mike Lowney took the loss.

Capital Punishment Re-examined

There has been renewed publicity about capital punishment in the last few weeks due to several cases which caught the attention of the public. In California, a convicted murderer was executed for the crime, the first execution in years. Now Richard Speck has been convicted of the murders of eight nurses in Chicago, with death in the electric chair the recommended penalty.

Although great care was taken not to try the Speck case in the newspapers after the United States Supreme Court decision overruled the conviction of Dr. Sam Sheppard, certainly the atrocious crimes meant widespread emotional reaction. There seems to be little doubt but that Speck was the murderer. And yet the major pieces of evidence are the identification by the one surviving nurse, some fingerprints which the defense claimed were blurred and inconclusive, and evidence that Speck was in the general neighborhood that night. It seems slight proof with which to send a man — even the kind of man Speck obviously was — to his death.

The simple fact is that capital punishment is revenge by society rather than any real deterrent to crime. It is an extension of the eye-for-an-eye philosophy of earlier civilizations. Speck himself is evidence that fear of the death penalty is no deterrent. Otherwise he would have perpetrated his heinous crimes over the state line in Wisconsin where there is no death penalty. The amoral or oddly motivated like Speck or the young men who killed the family in Iowa are not likely to be thinking about punishment at the time they kill.

Certainly we have little sympathy for the Richard Specks of this world. But organized society should have a higher motive than revenge in its laws and how they are carried out. Capital punishment in this decade merely diminishes all of us.

Bridge Building to Poland

One of President Johnson's "bridge building" plans to Eastern Europe has developed with the cancellation, in effect, of almost $10 million of Polish debts in exchange for some relaxation of Polish restrictions toward American business and products.

Actually there is $16,750,000 involved, part of a $29 million debt Poland incurred in 1964 by purchases of American surplus grains, cotton and tobacco. The United States at that time accepted the Polish zlotys in payment with the agreement that they would be redeemed for dollars by next January.

The cancellation of this requirement means instead that Poland will pay $7,250,000 over a period of seven years. The rest of the debt will go toward training Polish teachers in the English language. Poland also agrees in principle to permit American businessmen to borrow the United States owned Polish money to do business in Poland and also agreed to increase Polish purchases of American goods by more than $13 million so that the changes would not injure American balance of payments.

Poland has lagged somewhat behind Romania and Yugoslavia in establishing favorable trade relations with the West. In great part this is due to internal politics.

The Polish refusal to grant Richard Nixon a visa to visit the country was obviously out of concern over how good, not how bad, might be his welcome from the people. Premier Gomulka has not forgotten the happy reception Nixon received several years ago or the enthusiasm with which the Poles greeted Bobby Kennedy. Since the United States has almost always been more friendly to Poland than the other satellite countries of Eastern Europe because of previous American-Polish relations and the large numbers of American-Poles in this country, the Communist government in Warsaw must tread carefully. It must continue to remind the populace that Poland leans on the Soviet Union for assistance, that the United States is a supporter of West Germany which has not yet officially agreed to a change of border between Poland and Germany, and insist that anti-Soviet riots some years ago were neo-capitalist. So even in the latest series of agreements, the Polish government has reserved the right to approve each specific program which American businessmen might suggest.

In the long run and in spite of the Vietnam war, President Johnson's courage in trying to ease relations with Communist countries in Europe may turn out to be his greatest achievement.

Tax Credits for College Expenses

A forgotten group of American taxpayers — those middle income earners who must pay rising costs of educating their children and who generally do not qualify for scholarship aids — may enjoy a gleam of hope from action taken by the U. S. Senate last week. The Senate voted 53 to 26 to allow most Americans to deduct from their income taxes part of the cost of sending children to college.

Sen. Ribicoff, the Democrat from Connecticut, has been trying since 1964 to get such a proposal approved in the Senate. This time he attached it as an amendment to a bill already passed by the House to restore the 7 per cent tax credit for business expansion. He was supported by 25 Republicans and 28 Democrats, including both Wisconsin senators.

The amendment provides that parents could deduct college costs from their tax bill ranging from 75 per cent of the first $200 to a maximum deduction of $325 for each son or daughter in school. The maximum deduction would go to those earning less than $25,000 per year, with persons in higher earnings brackets getting less credit and those earning over $57,500 eliminated.

Principal objection to such a plan has always been the loss of revenue to the U. S. Treasury. Ribicoff estimates the cost of his bill at $600 million next year, and $1.3 billion by 1970.

The amendment faces some tough hurdles before it becomes law. A number of other amendments have been added to the tax bill in the Senate, including one repealing the presidential campaign fund act authored by Senator Robert Kennedy. The House passed a simple bill restoring the business expansion credit and didn't want this matter confused with other tax issues.

But whether it goes through in this form or not, this group of taxpayers really deserves some attention from Congress.

Taylor Writes

Number of Economic Indexes Have Shown Weakness Since Early in '66

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Robert Ruark said the best wild animal hunter is scared enough to be cautious but brave enough to control his fear. That's probably what we need in judging the business outlook.

Take, first, the facts — then get into the imponderables.

Taylor

The recession has begun. It's self-serving nonsense for Washington to talk about "avoiding a recession." Washington talks as if there were no recession, but its actions say there is.

The March economic indexes confirm what you could begin to see ahead as early as last summer or fall.

These yardsticks involve railroad and truck loadings, inter-city traffic, steel production, automotive output, appliance demand, residential and other construction capital investment, profits, wholesale prices, spot commodity prices, new business formations, business failures, etc.

WEAKENING FOR YEAR

Those advance barometers have been weakening ever since the first quarter of 1966. This is more than a year in that weakening. And since mid-December all — all — have gone into a downtrend.

Although the Federal Reserve Board Index of Industrial Production also dropped, the total inventories have been accumulating. You could project the buildup, seasonally adjusted to reach about $16-17 billion by the fourth quarter of 1967. By any yardstick that burden is unsustainable.

The indicated answer is that production will be cut further to at least below the flow of incoming orders — whatever they may be — and that the overburdening inventories mean future cuts in prices, too.

There is always a time lag in the matter of cause and effect, and also in the final official figures, but the Department of Commerce reports that Americans went $93 billion deeper in the red in 1965. We came out of the year with public and private debts at a record $1 trillion 268 billion.

Corporations owed $446 billion, individuals and unincorporated businesses owed $460 billion. Federal, state and local government debt totaled $362 billion. States, cities and public authorities increased the people's debts so feverishly that their bond sales increased more than $11 billion, a $700 million increase over the previous year.

Now, there's a fundamental but widely unrevealed difference between corporate or private debt and "public debts" — a secret which could toss many politicians out of office as clean as the swipe of a leopard's paw if they allowed the public to know it.

Private debt is a privilege, not a right. Public credit is a right, not a privilege. Thus private debt must meet certain repayment standards which limit it. Public debt need only be voted and voted and voted. And we private citizens must pay it.

Moreover, how much government overspending and debt we can stand is the great standing question. For it is utterly ridiculous to deny the relation between the government always spending beyond income and inflation (air forced into the balloon) and bust.

Either the politicians know their system is upside down, or they don't know this because they are upside down with it; or else it's a politically smart way of turning us all into revolving mice who are not going any place anyway.

The recession question largely hinges now on whether there will be a turn in the spending pattern in the remaining disposable income — one of the prime imponderables.

RANKING AUTHORITY

The ranking authority on this is the excellent University of Michigan Research Center. For nearly a year its constant nation-wide surveys regarding how people feel about buying homes, cars, appliances and other goods have shown an uninterrupted decline in consumer sentiment.

In February, however, this important finding turned upward. It showed people more optimistic about purchases — more ready to buy — and more confident that they should.

The change is greater among upper-income bracket consumers than of middle and lower income, but history shows that in such changes (either way) these lead the way.

If the reversal broadens, the recession will receive a cushion so important that it can have a strong effect on the length of the recession.

"Wars," said Napoleon, "are won by the imponderables." The consumer-sentiment imponderable will strengthen or recede as the result of many things — but its significance is undeniable. And this index, at least, has turned upward at a time when business is scared enough to be cautious but looks brave enough to control its fears.

Police Get the Bird in Trying to Bag Burglar

FORD LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Police figured they had this burglar in the bag. But all they got was the bird.

Roy Scarborough heard "hammering and breaking noises" in his neighbor's house and called police. Surrounding the place, officers still could hear the suspect at work.

When police entered the house to catch the culprit red-handed, all they could find was a bird. It had gotten inside somehow and had been banging away at the windows with its beak in an attempt to get back out.

Looking Backward

More Zeal Than Judgment

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for April 27, 1867.

The temperance cause often is pushed by its advocates with more zeal than judgment; and "zeal without judgment is an evil, though it be zeal unto good."

For instance, when temperance leaders disclose that they cannot see any good accomplished as long as three places are licensed to sell liquor by the crink, goes in for the prosecution of every one who sells, but those three, I do not see their zeal tempered by judgment.

If three places "for the destruction of me" have already been licensed, as they had been on a certain occasion a year ago, why advocate the prosecution of every one?

Why not tell the Common Council that they had done all the hurt they can do in that direction, and they had better proceed and license the rest?

It has been a question whether beer and cider should be included in a no-license law. I think they should not. In including them, the temperance effort is by far too often overdone, and the deadlier enemies — Wines, Brandies and Whiskies are not reached.

Wisconsin Report

Upper Great Lakes Commission Begins Work With Hoopla

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Perhaps there has been no more persistent issue in Wisconsin public affairs discussions during the last 40 years or more than that represented in the comparative lag of the economy of upper Wisconsin. The area has been returned to the news with the formal creation of an Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission to consider the common problems of the northern-most counties of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota.

Wyngaard

When these reports on state affairs were begun, in a year more remote in time that this reporter likes to remember, the rehabilitation of the northern Wisconsin "cut-over" was standard speech fare for the aspiring statewide politician. Lately the word "cut-over" has been abandoned, probably because the north is green again with a new cover of timber. Yet the economy of the northern third of the state in general is less visible and less promising than that of the state as a whole. Neighbor states have the same problem. This has brought about federal legislation for yet another governmental attempt to do something about it.

WHAT HAPPENS NOW?

But the vague and rhetorical style of the speeches of Govs. Knowles, Romney and Levaner when they signed the interstate compact for the new commission at Madison the other day are suggestive.

Precisely what can be done or should be done to uplift the region is highly uncertain, to judge from their comments. One listener at the brief Madison ceremony remarked that the same ghost writer could have composed all of the speeches delivered on the occasion.

Gov. Knowles said he hopes for "an aggressive, action oriented program," which is interesting enough, but falls far short of a prescription for explicit work. His brother governors talked about "coordination." It is a pretty good rule, of thumb in politics that when somebody talks about "coordination" he is unsure of what he ought to be saying.

The new commission will start with a staff of five, paid out of a $400,000 initial federal appropriation. The number of "coordinators" and the amount of their budget are scarcely calculated to make any upper Wisconsin development advocate optimistic about early or substantial results. Inevitably, the next round of effort will be to prepare justification for further federal aid grants in the future, for purposes not yet defined.

Somebody has suggested that the most constructive effort for the economic strengthening of the timber and lake country would be the provision of more and better highways. Surely better transportation service is one of the promising avenues for regional improvement, not only for the advancement of the tourist industry which is one of the most visible economic resources, but for the selling of its raw materials far removed from the important markets. Transportation is also more important in a comparative sense to the smaller industrial communities of the north and to potential industries of the future than it is to the factories more accessible to the large, urban centers of the nation and the Middle West.

AREA NOT NEGLECTED

The hoopla with which the new commission was established may leave the impression that the northern region has been neglected by state and national governments. That is untrue. The chances are that the public service expenditures in the northern region are comparatively higher, by a per capita test or any other, than anywhere else in Wisconsin. One of the reasons, indeed, for the tenuous security of such politicians as Rep. O'Konski and Sen. Proxmire in a broad swath of upper Wisconsin voting precincts is their aggressive interest in prying loose federal treasury benefits for those constituents.

The chances are that the commission's program will be to enlarge such assistance, while its best hope for permanent progress will be to concentrate on the development of such natural assets as the region possesses, timber crops, the esthetic value of green forests and clean waters, and an attractive summer climate.

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The right-wingers are fond of making the distinction between a "democracy" and a "republic." They point out that our nation was established as a republic, not as a democracy; and they are ardently in favor of the former, while violently opposed to the latter.

Harris

But a republic without a democracy is a hollow shell — and the shell is easily filled by a dictator or an oligarchy. A republic is simply a country without a monarch, which is ruled by representatives of the people.

Germany under Hitler was a republic. Spain under Franco is a republic. Both Russia and China call themselves republics in their official titles. There is nothing in a republic that automatically precludes despotism and dictatorship, the rule of violence and bigotry.

A democracy is quite another matter. A democracy is based on the simple and obvious fact that no man or group of men is good enough to be trusted with the uncontrolled power over others. I am not good enough, you are not good enough, and nobody we know is good enough.

Aristotle said that democracy is the least bad form of government. Theoretically, we could devise better forms; but, even being what they are, these superior forms would degenerate and become far worse than our bumbling, inefficient, and sometimes corrupt democracy.

When the founders of our nation stated unequivocally that "all men are created equal," they did not mean to state the silly untruth that all men are created similar or identical or without vast differences of ability, energy and brains.

What they meant to state was the rock-bottom truth that all men have the same right to determine their own fate; that all men deserve equal treatment, and an equal voice, in the law; that all men must be regarded as ends in themselves, and not as means to other men's ends.

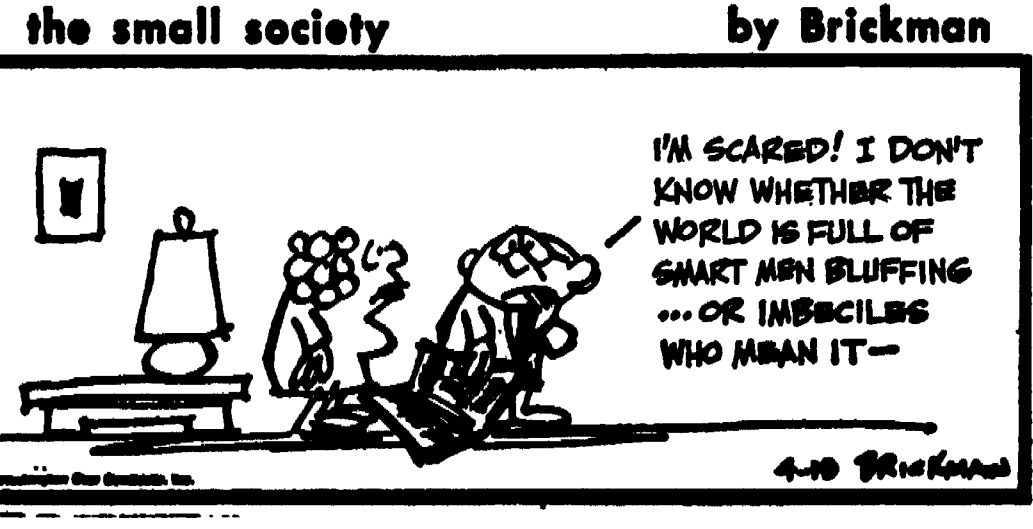

This is what democracy is all about, and this is why it is the only form of government that a free people can afford — with all its weaknesses, inconsistencies, defects, blunders and stupidities. It is not as good as it might be; but we have found nothing better.

Democracy is under great attack in this century from both the right and the left. These extremists seem to be antagonists at opposite poles, but their similarities are greater than their differences. Both distrust and despise ordinary people, while pretending to represent them. Both think they know what is good for us better than we do; and both would enslave us under the guise of liberating us.

We are a democratic republic. The two are indissolubly linked in our history and public philosophy. Those right-wingers who challenge this linkage are just as "un-American" as the left-wingers they oppose.

'Hobson's Choice' Next Lawrence Theatre Play

Lancashire Comedy Last of Season,
May 10-13 Under Joseph Hopfensperger

"Hobson's Choice," a Lancashire comedy in four acts by Harold Brighouse, will be Lawrence University Theatre's season finale. Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, May 10-13, in Stansbury Theater.

Director Joseph Hopfensperger, assistant professor of theater and drama, heads the production. It is his first since returning from sabbatical leave in 1965-66.

Hopfensperger's earlier productions were "Ticket of Leave Man" (1962); "Ah, Wilderness!" (1963); "Toad of Toad Hall" (1964); and "The Wild Duck" (1965).

Tickets for the forthcoming performances go on sale noon Wednesday at the Lawrence University Box Office in the Music-Drama Center, 115 N. Park Ave. All seats are reserved only.

"Hobson's Choice" was first produced in America in 1915, and a year later was taken to war-time London, where it ran for 246 performances.

Good Repertory Fare
After a history of presentation by small repertory companies, on national radio (five broadcasts on the BBC), and as a highly-praised film, it became a part of the National Theatre Company's Repertoire in time for the troupe's triumphal tour of Moscow and Berlin two years ago.

Brighouse, a highly reputed theatrical craftsman, earned his living as a writer and theater critic for the Manchester Guardian. During a career of 30 years he wrote 15 full-length plays, 51 one-act plays and eight novels.

One of the so-called Manchester School dramatists, Brighouse championed colorful Lancashire people and their speech, both of which are notable for their forthrightness and lack of sophistication.

Colorful Speech

Hobson's hard-headed suspicion of subtlety and cleverness, as an example, is expressed in a rough aphorism, "Honest men live by business and lawyers live by law."

Equally abrupt, but with typical Lancashire depth of feeling are the play's exchanges of faltering endearments, one of which goes, "Eh, lad!" and the answer, "Eh, lass!" Or its closing line, full of meaning, "Well, by gum!"

According to Hopfensperger, "Hobson's Choice" has the ring of a theatrical classic, with superb craftsmanship, strong motivation and an element of comedy which makes it a "viewer's play."

Message Is There

Its message, although it is never mentioned, is that of a changing society, a system which in the Victorian time of the play was concerned with the right of women to determine their own lives. In Hobson's case, it dealt with the means by which a shoemaker could rise from near servitude to become his own master.

"Hobson's Choice" is the third of the major Lawrence Theatre productions this season. Also a part of the University's drama schedule were a half-dozen one-act plays, given under student direction.

Adenauer Dies in Sleep

Former German Chancellor
Hailed for Accomplishments

BONN, Germany (AP) — Konrad Adenauer died in his sleep today, plunging into mourning the prosperous West German nation he built up from the ashes of World War II defeat. He was 91.

The former chancellor was stricken a week ago with influenza and bronchitis. His condition steadily weakened as complications set in.

The family was at his bedside in the three-story home in Rhoendorf, a village near this capital, when he died.

For several days, as the news spread that Adenauer was growing weaker, thousands had visited the village but when the end came there were few people around.

Radio and television stations broadcast solemn music and speeches of praise for the aged statesman. A jarring note came from the official Communist East German news agency ADN which said his life work was "against the interests of the German nation." It condemned him for outlawing the Communist Party.

Death came at 1:21 p.m. while the aged statesman was sleeping.

Those in the villa overlooking the Rhine included his son, Roman Catholic Msgr. Paul Adenauer.

Flags in the capital were low.

Johnson Plans To Attend Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will attend the funeral of former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany, the White House announced today.

Johnson and Adenauer had known one another since the early 1950's and now that the latter is dead, the President told an aide, "I want to be there" for the services.

ered to half staff. Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger was the first to express his sorrow.

"He was given to do what is granted to few men: to raise up his fatherland from the deepest degradation and to bring it back into the community of free peoples," Kiesinger said.

A meeting of the Bundestag, where Adenauer has been a leader through the postwar years, was canceled except for an announcement of his death.

State Funeral
President Heinrich Lübke ordered a state funeral. Ceremonies are expected to take place in the great Cologne Cathedral.

Remained Active
Adenauer was one of the most influential figures of the Western world for two decades. He served as chancellor of West Germany from the founding of the Bonn republic in 1949 until 1963. But he remained active in politics almost to the end as a firm friend of French President Charles de Gaulle.

"Der Alte" — the old man — as Adenauer was known to his countrymen, was still a member of parliament when he died. He was a member and former chairman of the Christian Democratic Party.

All through the cold war, he was one of the West's most uncompromising opponents of Soviet communism. In his last years, however, after he relinquished the chancellorship to Ludwig Erhard, he predicted Red China would be the West's major menace and urged closer relations with Russia.

West Germany lay in the ruins of World War II when Adenauer took power. Its people were distressed by the rest of the world because of the Nazi past.

During Adenauer's 14 years in office the country rose to unprecedented prosperity and gained acceptance as a friend and ally of the Western powers. It became a bulwark against further westward expansion by communism.

'Peace of World'
Sir Winston Churchill called Adenauer "the greatest German statesman since Bismarck."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower praised him for "dedication to his people and

Thailand Would Use U.S. SAMs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thailand has bid for U. S.-made surface to air missiles amid warnings at the SEATO foreign ministers meeting that Communist subversion is continuing in Southeast Asia.

Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand told the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Tuesday that since his nation has become involved in the Vietnam war, "some of our people should be protected by missiles."

Thanat and Jesus Vargas of the Philippines, SEATO secretary-general, joined in espousing stronger cooperation between the treaty members.

War Stepup Indicated by 145 Missions

SAIGON (AP) — American pilots took advantage of a break in the weather Tuesday afternoon to give North Vietnam its second worst bombing this year and to attack the showpiece Thai Nguyen steel plant for the 10th time.

The American airmen hit the north with 145 missions. The sudden upsurge indicated that the high command is ready to step up the war in the north immediately when any break in the monsoon weather permits.

A spokesman indicated that more intense raids are to be expected as soon as the seasonal bad weather breaks, and that this is now expected at any time.

Communist concern over the defense strip that U.S. Marines are bulldozing through vegetation two miles south of the demilitarized zone was reflected in a flurry of action.

Mortar Barrage
A Communist platoon of 30 or 40 men engaged elements of the 1st Battalion, 4th Marine Regiment, in a fire fight and the leathernecks also came under a Red mortar barrage. Enemy mines planted in advance of the earthmovers knocked out a Marine tank, a bulldozer and an amphibious tractor.

Two Marines were killed and 17 wounded. Five unformed Communists were found dead after the fight. In all, four Marines have been killed and 62 wounded in pushing the strip 4,500 yards westward from their base at Gio Linh. It is to extend seven miles to the mountains as the western wing of a little Maginot Line that South Vietnamese are building between the sea and Gio Linh.

American fliers flew only two less missions Tuesday than the year's high of 147 April 3. The record for the war so far is 175 missions flown on a November day last year.

North of Hanoi
The Thai Nguyen steel plant and railroad yards 38 miles north of Hanoi was hit by a task force held ready for the break in the weather. When it came, Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4C Phantom streaked into the Hanoi-Haiphong-Thai Nguyen triangle which is guarded by an iron ring of radar-controlled antiaircraft guns and Soviet-built surface to air missiles.

While specially equipped planes peeled off to hit the antiaircraft revetments and camouflaged SAM sites, other raiders plunged through a hail of fire over the steel plant and railroad yards for 25 minutes.

The Air Force said that

Smallpox Epidemic Kills 100 in India

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — About 100 people have died in a smallpox epidemic in the Hazo area of Assam State in the past three weeks, according to reports reaching here.

Earlier 59 deaths had been reported in the Gauhati area. Smallpox is also raging in Bihar State where, according to unofficial estimates, more than 900 people have died since January.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, left, and William Simkin, head of the Federal Mediation Service, met Tuesday with management and union representatives in an effort to end the Chicago trucking lockout-strike. Kellett Bill Nears Showdown

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Forces backing the Kellett plan to reorganize state government gained considerable political momentum Tuesday when five amendments were tacked on to the bill and key support was voiced by the Senate.

Accepted were amendments spelling out the investigation to be conducted before the Conservation and Resource Development departments are merged in July, 1969; exemption of the Grain and Warehouse Commission from the provisions of the bill, and inclusion of special tourist promotional funds in the Conservation Department, rather than in a department of local affairs as had been sought.

Democrats, spurred on by minority leader Fred Risser, D-Madison, charged that the bill was being gutted by the provisions Republicans were accepting in order to keep wavering members of their ranks behind the bill and to win former opponents over to their side.

Republicans urged the Senate to act on the amendments so the measure's major test could be faced — perhaps as soon as Wednesday.

Still to be confronted by backers of the bill are amendments which would separate the two major issues in the bill — proposed merger of the Welfare Department and State Board of Health into a department of social services and merger of the Conservation and Resource Development departments into a department of natural resources.

An amendment introduced late Tuesday by Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, would kill the proposed merger before the bill is even accepted. The merger, target of intense lobbying by conservation-oriented groups and the State Conservation Commission since before the Kellett commission released its final draft of the bill, would take place on July 1, 1969, under the terms of the substitute amendment submitted in compromise with opponents by Gov. Warren P. Knowles three weeks ago.

An interim board would study the proposed merger and report to the Legislature in January, 1969, as to the desirability and feasibility of the merger — which legislators then could block.

The LaFave amendment would prevent even that process from being carried out and prohibit the merger by creating two separate departments for the resource areas under the Kellett plan.

LBJ Back at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back in the White House after being away more than a week, President Johnson briefs his Cabinet today on impressions he gained at his meeting with heads of Latin-American nations.

The President and Mrs. Johnson landed early today in the presidential jet at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., and shuttled across the Anacostia River to the White House by helicopter.

Johnson was gone eight days, allocating half the time to the meeting of presidents in Punta del Este, Uruguay, and the remainder to work and relaxation at his Texas ranch.

His schedule for today included, besides the Cabinet conference, a meeting with Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, to discuss the special U.N. session that starts Friday.

Probers Repeat Allegation of Illegal Lobbying

MADISON (AP) — A legislative committee wound up its probe of charges of irregular lobbying by the Conservation Department Tuesday as the chairman repeated the accusations had been proven "absolutely."

Sen. Leland McParland, D-Cudahy, told newsmen, "The testimony shows money, time and material were used in the opposition" to the Kellett bill on government reorganization.

McParland's committee instructed its counsel, Assistant Atty. Gen. James McDermott, to draw up a proposed report on the findings and on recommendations for changes in the laws on use of state funds.

The report is to be submitted to the Legislature by May 15. John C. Wickhem of Janesville, an attorney for the Conservation Commission, told the group that the agency had not violated any law.

Conservation Department employees had testified previously that they helped arrange and publicize a "red shirt" rally in Madison Feb. 9 on the eve of legislative hearings on the Kellett bill, which includes a proposal to merge conservation with water pollution control.

Wickhem conceded employees had used state time to aid the outdoors groups sponsoring the rally, but argued, "I don't think there's any showing of any sizeable expenditure of state funds."

Wickhem and Jack Schumacher of Shawano, a member of the six-man Conservation Commission that governs the department, disputed McParland's statement last week that the agency had been proven guilty of improper lobbying.

Schumacher said the agency was only informing the public on the contents of the Kellett bill.

Surveyor Still On Moon Target

All Systems on Rocket Reported Set for Landing

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 3, equipped with a television camera and a small digging device, was reported performing beautifully as it coasted toward a soft landing today on the moon.

"Everything's going fine," said a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The touchdown on the lunar Sea of Storms was expected at 6:04 p.m., EST.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory reported Tuesday night that the spacecraft was maintaining both attitude and position for a proper landing. They said all systems aboard the three-legged probe were operating smoothly.

About five hours from the expected touchdown, the craft's speed is slated to drop to 2,056 miles per hour as Surveyor comes within the influence of lunar gravity.

Crucial Phase
At a point 60 miles slant range from the moon, the space traveler will accelerate to about 6,000 miles per hour. Then the firing of its main retrorocket is scheduled to slow it to 250 m.p.h. for the crucial landing phase.

Radar signals bounced from the moon back to the spacecraft will control the burning of three small gas jets which are designed to reduce Surveyor's descent as the altitude from the lunar surface decreases.

Scientists expect that about 13 feet from the moon's surface, the probe will have slowed to approximately 3 m.p.h.

At this point, the three jets will be shut off and Surveyor is to free-fall to the moon.

Soviet Union Says Only It Can Aid Grand Coulee

MOSCOW (AP) — A Russian engineer said today that only the Soviet Union has the necessary experience to build the giant hydroturbines needed by the Grand Coulee dam in the United States.

The Soviets put in a bid to supply the 600,000-kilowatt turbines. The bid was seen as a test of official American statements expressing interest in trade with Communist East Europe.

Vladimir Goldin, head of the design bureau of the Leningrad turbine plant that would do the job for Grand Coulee, told the newspaper Literaturnaya Gazeta — Literary Gazette — "the fact is that hydroturbines of such capacity are produced only in the Soviet Union."

He said the turbines his plant produced for the Krasnoyarsk station in Siberia could be used for Grand Coulee.

'Highest Tradition of Journalism' Exhibited

Editor, Post-Crescent:
The Post-Crescent and Dick Lyness should be congratulated for the series of articles appearing in the newspaper on SDS. It seems to me that this series is in the highest tradition of journalism and public service, the type of research and writing that would be a candidate for a Pulitzer prize award of some similar recognition.

It is not without a great deal of apprehension that my family and I have been following this expose. I guess the thing that frightens us is that the people who are in leadership positions in the SDS are so obviously the people who, for one reason or another, have been unable to adjust to the problems of everyday living. Yet they have maneuvered themselves into a position where they are able to exert leadership and influence over many rational and well-meaning students in our colleges and universities today.

It would be my hope, and I'm sure yours also, that the light of publicity that you have focused on this organization will alert the intelligent student leadership in our colleges to the true nature of the SDS and to its objectives which they have so clearly set forth in writing for all to see if they are willing to take the time and trouble. I console myself with the thought that the SDS people represent a small minority of our college student population, and that when the great majority, who are the level-headed and intelligent students, are aware of the facts they will soon disown this disreputable group.
Again, congratulations to Dick Lyness for doing the research involved in writing this series, and to The Post-Crescent for having the courage to print it.

Appreciates Post-Crescent Editorial

Editor, Post-Crescent:
On Friday, April 14, an editorial titled "What's the Difference" appeared in The Post-Crescent.
I would like to commend the writer and the paper for preparing and printing such a true and factual article.
In this present day, when law enforcement needs the respect and help of all society more than ever before, it is indeed very gratifying to see someone take notice and "put it in print."

to their legislators, Girl Scout troop No. 83 of Kimberly asked their parents to write the legislators giving them their views on the highway laws.

In doing this the girls came to realize the government's officials are working for the good of the people, but this doesn't mean that the people can just relax, for the officials are the voices of the people. And how can you have sound without vibration?
This letter is to urge the people to write so that the sound comes from our vibrations!

Suggests District Attorney Should Ban Checkout Boys

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Open letter to District Attorney, Nick Schaefer:
I just read an article in your evening Post-Crescent of April 13, under the heading, "Minors Banned From Taverns By State Law." In the article two state laws are stated saying no minors may be employed where liquor or beer is served or sold. Let me call your attention to the fact that many supermarkets in Appleton and the county sell beer. These supermarkets employ students under the age of 18. Let's ban them from their jobs. They are no different then the musicians that play at the local beer bars and adult clubs.

I worked at an Appleton supermarket which employed more than 20 young men and ladies under the age of 18 years old. Both the teen-age carry-out boy and the checkers have worked the cash register when beer was being purchased by customers over 21.

Don't you believe we should take away their jobs also. Many of the high school students are employed as musicians and grocery clerks so they can earn money to further their education; many to help their families with financial burdens.

New London Team

NEW LONDON — Rich Gorges fanned eight and allowed four scattered hits as he pitched the Bulldogs to a 3-0 win over Pulaski Tuesday in a non-league contest at Hatten Stadium.

The victory was the second straight for the Bulldogs who are beginning their first campaign under Jim Patritto. Last year the Bulldogs were 4-8.

Gorges had complete control except for the fifth inning Pulaski loaded the bases with one out and then Gorges handled an infield fly and fanned opposing pitcher Gary Karca to halt the only threat.

New London pushed across two runs in the second inning on a single hit Don Berglund was walked with one out, John Kaepernick reached base after the centerfielder misplayed a sharp liner. Butch Beaudon was safe on a fielders choice and then Tom Meyer brought in both runs on a single to center which was bobbled by Tom Liss for his second error of the inning.

The Bulldogs final run came in the third inning on a single by Chuck Tews, his second of the game, an error and an infield grounder by Gorges to bring home the run.

New London collected six hits, all singles. Tews and Meyer each got two hits in three trips to pace the offense. Pulaski's four hits were scattered among four players.

Recommends Support of New Bill 19A

Approval to form vocational area District 12 on school district lines was given Tuesday in Milwaukee by the State Vocational Board, bringing one step nearer the formation of the board for a vocational institute. Similar action, if taken by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHHE) when it meets May 11 at Madison, can mean that a section panel can be chosen from the presidents of the 25 school districts included in District 12, and the institute board formed without further delay.

Names Bill
When the state board passed its motion to form District 12 on school district lines, it strongly recommended that the presidents of the 25 boards of education involved, and the county board chairmen of the four counties which make up District 12, move together to support Bill 19-A when it comes up for legislative action during the present session. Bill 19-A, which is reportedly being drafted in its final form in the legislature's educational committee this week, changes Chapter 292 Laws of Wisconsin, relating to the establishment of area vocational-technical school districts by July 1, 1970.

Principally 19-A provides for moving the July 1, 1970 date for operation of a vocational school district to July 1, 1968, and provides for the selection panel to be made up of four county board chairmen, four school board presidents and one person appointed by the State Vocational Board.

Need Approval
If the CCHHE approves formation of District 12 on school district lines, the presidents of the boards in the 25 school districts can name the area board. This could happen by July 1, 1967, in keeping with the time-table set up by the school districts and the five existing vocational schools. If the institute board is not formed by July 1, 1967, according to existing law, it will be deferred to July 1, 1968.

When the institute board of seven persons, including two employers, two employees who are associated with a labor organization, and two members-at-large and one superintendent of schools, is formed, the plans for the institute can move ahead without further delay.

It will be possible for this board to levy the 1.5 mill tax in the four-county area of District 12, select a site, hire an architect, finalize the program of instruction, and hire a director and staff. School administrators, both vocational and public, have gone on record that there is an "urgency" in getting District 12's area vocational program under way.

There are other "ifs". Should the CCHHE not approve District 12 on school district lines, it would be the option of the State Vocational Board to return to its action of last November when the district was approved by it on county lines, including Calumet, Outagamie, Waupaca and Winnebago.

Feeling Optimistic
"It is the feeling that the CCHHE will approve District 12 on school district lines, in lieu of the attorney general's ruling last week that a county board could act for a portion of a county if that small portion was taken out for another school district." Clarence Greiber, director of the State Vocational Board, Madison, said today.

If 19-A is not passed, and CCHHE approves formation of District 12 on school district lines, the school boards can move ahead to form the area board under the provisions of 292 Wisconsin Law. In this case the nine-member selection committee for the board would be made up entirely of school board presidents.

If 19-A is passed before District 12 acts to form the institute board, the selection panel would be made up of the four county board chairmen, four school board members and one member appointed by the State Vocational Board.

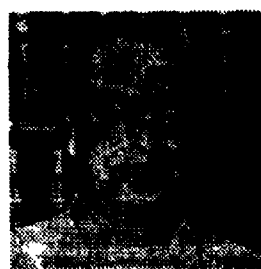

The school districts which make up vocational District 12 by their petitions to the state board are: Appleton, Bear Creek, Brillion, Chilton, Clintonville, Freedom, Hilbert, Hortonville, Iola-Scandinavia, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute, Manawa, Marion, Menasha, Neenah, New London, Omro, Oshkosh, Shiocton, Seymour, Stockbridge, Waupaca, Weyauwega, and Winnebago.

Al C. Fischer Resigns From County Board

Airport Chairman Cites Business as Reason for Leaving

Appleton Supv. Al C. Fischer unexpectedly announced Tuesday afternoon that he is resigning from the Outagamie County Board.

Fischer had served as a county supervisor since 1966. He represented supervisory District 16, which roughly corresponds to Appleton's 15th Ward.

More Fog Troubles For Astronaut Cernan

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Eugene A. Cernan, taking diving instructions recently, got a reminder in the Navy pool of his space-walking troubles last June. His mask fogged up.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Ealer said Fischer's decision was "a complete surprise" and that he will be unable to appoint a successor to fill Fischer's unexpired term until Thursday when the board reconvenes.

Fischer had served on the airport committee for several years, and had been its chairman since last year.

Two Ballots Needed
Two ballots were needed to determine the courts, justice and enforcement committee's representative to the executive committee.

On the first ballot Appleton Supv. John Schreiter had 21 votes, to 18 for Greisch and five for Supv. Charles Wussow, also of Appleton. Another vote was necessary because no one had a majority of the total vote.

Greisch edged Schreiter, 23 to 22, on the second ballot. The 11-man executive committee is filled out with the membership of the county board chairman and vice-chairman (Sylvester Ealer, Appleton, and Marvin Babbitt, Seymour) plus a man elected by members of the highway committee.

The remaining 30 county board members are appointed to seats on the eight standing committees by a special committee-on-committees.

Board members elected to serve on the committee on committees with Ealer were Schreiter, 30 votes; Kaukauna Supv. Merritt Kavanaugh, 29 votes; Appleton Supv. Arthur Hoolihan, 28 votes, and Little Chute Supv. Edward Spierings, 25 votes.

Defeated candidates for the committee on committees were Fredericks and Appleton Supv. Herbert Heible, 21 votes each, and Appleton Supv. Clarence Miller, 17 votes.

The committee on Committee's appointments will be announced at Thursday's board session.

'Thou Shalt Not Steal,' Please Return Giant

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — An 8-foot cutout of a giant, borrowed from a food processing company, was stolen from the Corvallis Four Square church. It had been outside the church to call attention to a church program billed as giant steps of progress.

In its place the thief left two cans of food and a biblical reference to Deuteronomy which says, "thou shalt have no other gods."

Later the pastor replaced it with another quotation from the same book of the Bible: "Neither shalt thou steal." And he said he'd also like to have the thief return the giant.
